SENATE PUTS THROUGH DRY BILL, 25 TO 14

After Delay in Vote Upon the Measure Is Defeated, Sheppard's Bill Goes Through Upper House by 2 to 1 Vote

At Joint Public Hearing Both Sides of the Question Are Presented; Committees Are Overwhelmingly for the Act

BULLETIN:

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The Senate of the California legislature voted to ratify the national prohibition amendment today. The vote was 25 to 14.

The initial vote stood 24 to 15, but Senator Walter A. McDonald of San Francisco who voted no, announced that he would change his vote to aye in order to obtain a reconsideration.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The contest over the motion for adjournment until Monday brought out the fact that Senators A. H. Breed and James A. Rominger, heretofore listed as doubtful, voted with the drys against delay in ratification of the prohibition amendment.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The California State Senate by a vote of 25 to 13 today rejected a motion to delay final consideration of the proposed federal prohibition amendment. It was not a test vote, some anti-ratification senators voting with the majority.

Precipitating a sharp three-sided contest on whether it should be acted on at once, postponed until Monday or submitted to a statewide referendum, the report favoring the adoption by the legislature of the federal prohibition amendment was submitted to the State Senate today by its federal relations committee. The report in favor of ratification was signed by four of the five members of the committee.

Senator S. C. Evans of Riverside, chairman of the committee, asked for an immediate vote. "All that can be said has been said," he remarked.

A resolution to amend the committee's report so as to place the matter up to the people was introduced by Senator Herbert W. Slater of Santa Rosa. It was referred to the federal relations committee.

"The rock bound hills of California were made to flourish as the rose by the hardy grape vine," Senator Slater said. "We have created commissions and made appropriations for the vineyards, now we would blot them out."

BENSON OPPOSES DELAY IN ACTION

A motion that action be postponed until Monday in order that interests not yet heard from may have an opportunity to present their case was made by Senator Lawrence J. Flaherty of San Francisco. Senator Frank H. Benson of San Jose walked to a point below the speaker's stand, and asked that there be no delay.

"There is an epidemic upon us," he said. "It is fortunate that none of the forty members of this Senate have been stricken as yet. But between now and Monday four or five may be struck low and a representative vote would be impossible."

Senator J. M. Inman of Sacramento, the only member of the federal relations committee to vote against ratification, urged an immediate vote. He said he had changed his mind since yesterday when he called the anti-prohibition movement a "corpse," and had decided that it had changed into a bear over night. "I know this Senate will not vote for ratification," he said.

Senator William S. Scott of San Francisco asked a postponement of the issue until Monday.

COMMITTEES REPORT FOR RATIFICATION

Ratification of the prohibition amendment was recommended to the assembly of the California legislature by its federal relations committee today by a vote of 5 to 2. The senate committee made a similar recommendation last night following a joint public hearing.

Assembly rules prevent a final vote being taken today on ratification, but it was believed final vote would be taken in the senate late today.

The minority report of the assembly federal relations committee, signed by Lee Gebhart of Sacramento and F. L. Eckward of Burlingame, recommended that the proposed bone dry amendment be submitted to the people for an advisory vote at the next general election. A separate concurrent resolution, introduced by Assemblyman Bismarck Bruck of St. Helena, similar to the committee' minority report, was still pending before the assembly federal relations committee today.

By a vote of 4 to 1 the senate committee decided to recommend the ratification of the amendment. The senate committee vote in opposition to ratification was entered by Senator J. M. Inman of Sacramento, who said he would submit a minority report.

The committee action followed a public hearing in the Assembly chamber, in which both the prohibi-

Beautiful Milo Abercrombie Asks Absolute Divorce From German Plotter Von Brincken

CO-ED CATCHES BURGLAR IN U.C. SORORITY HOUSE

Miriam Burt Telephones the Police While Thief Is at Work, Watches Him Ransack Place and Sees Arrest

Detecting a burglar at work in the Kappa Sigma sorority house, 2200 Piedmont avenue, Berkeley, Miss Miriam Burt, attractive co-ed at the University of California, calmly slipped away to a telephone last evening and called the police.

While the police were hastening to Piedmont avenue, Miss Burt kept watch on the man as he made his way through various rooms of the home. When Officer George Kohler arrived on the scene he found Miss Burt guarding the home under a pergola leading to the street from where she let the policeman into the house. From a window the burglar saw the college girl and the officer of the law and he hastily made an exit through a side window. Kohler gave chase, however, and the man was captured within a block of the residence.

Search made of the man at the police station found in his possession a string of pearls belonging to one of the co-eds and a purse containing several greenbacks. The burglar gave the name of George Fraser and his age as 45 when questioned by the police. Police records show him to have been identified with two other burglaries for which he served terms in San Quentin.

Miss Burt was alone in the sorority house, when she was aroused from her reading by the sounds of a person moving stealthily in an adjoining room. Investigating, she discovered Fraser at work. Noiselessly, she slipped to a telephone in another part of the house and summoned the police and then kept watch until the arrival of aid.

Miss Burt is a sophomore student at the University of California and is registered from El Paso, Tex. She is a student in the college of letters and sciences and well known on the campus.

This is the second time within a few weeks that the Kappa Sigma sorority house has been the scene of a visit by unwelcome men. On the previous occasion a prowler was pursued by three of the girls in an automobile, and before he could elude them a policeman was sighted and the man arrested.

Broken-Hearted Romance of Tears and Tempests Has Its Final Painful Setting When Convicted Man Is Jailed

The thrilling international romance of the former Miss Milo Abercrombie and Lieutenant Wilhelm E. von Brincken is at an end.

The beautiful young society woman who has played the heroine through the spectacular war drama; obliged to register as an enemy alien even while she was loyal to the land of her birth; giving a wife's allegiance to her husband and standing gallantly by him through public ignominy, is praying the courts of California for an absolute divorce.

Not only does she want her freedom from matrimonial ties, but she desires restored to her the name of Abercrombie; to her daughter, Cecilia, age 2 years, so-called after the former German Crown Princess, she asks that the name of Marie Abercrombie be given; and to her son, eight months old, named after his father, she asks that the name of John W. Abercrombie be granted.

So would she by the official action of the Superior Court wipe out forever the history of the past three years.

FINAL SEPARATION WHEN HE WENT TO PRISON

The complaint was filed in San Francisco yesterday by Attorney George A. McGowan, Mrs. von Brincken's stepfather, who has been cast for only a less conspicuous role in the Abercrombie-von Brincken romance than the wife and the former military attache of the German consulate in San Francisco. Each time the young couple have come before the public McGowan has been their champion before the courts. He now appears on behalf of his stepdaughter.

The complaint recites that the marriage of Miss Milo Abercrombie and Lieutenant Wilhelm von Brincken occurred on October 27, 1915, in San Francisco. The final separation took place on May 1, 1918. By reason of the acts and conduct of von Brincken as an officer of the German empire in violation of the neutrality laws of the United States, Mrs. von Brincken declares she has been humiliated and it is impossible for her to maintain peace and tranquility of mind. Therefore she asks for divorce.

TEARS AND TEMPESTS BESET THEIR PATHWAY

After the betrothal of the beautiful San Francisco society girl was announced to the officer in the Germany army, wedding plans were delayed while she awaited a final decree of divorce from his first wife, the former Miss Alice Roedel, daughter of a San Mateo banker. The marriage was a brilliant occasion. But tears and tempests have beset the path of the young couple. It was only a short while before Lieutenant von Brincken, with Franz Bopp, Imperial German consul general, and former Vice Consul Eckhardt H. von Schaack, were charged with violating American neutrality in connection with the Hindoo-German plots. The trial of the famous case in December, 1916, will go down into history. Through it all the young bride of Lieutenant von Brincken sat near him in court and listened with attentiveness to the charges which were brought

Sub-Treasuries at San Francisco and Other Cities Are to Be Discontinued and Items Pruned Elsewhere

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—It will cost $7,146,645.77 more to run the United States government during the next fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1919, than during the present fiscal year, which began July 1, 1918, under the provisions of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill reported to the House this afternoon by the House appropriations committee. Although the bill provides for appropriations aggregating $96,318,791.75, it represents sweeping cuts totaling $23,698,845.88 in the estimates submitted to Congress by the various administrative branches of the government through the treasury department.

This is in pursuance of the policy of economy determined upon by Representative Sherley, Democrat, of Kentucky, as chairman of the House appropriations committee, after the signing of the armistice.

Sherley heads a special sub-committee which is now engaged in pruning and paring appropriations made during the war, especially those for the military establishment, by which he says he expects to effect a saving of approximately $16,000,000.

COLLECTION OF TAXES EXPENSES INCREASED.

It will cost the government, however, considerably more to collect sufficient taxes during the next fiscal year to meet its expenses than during the present fiscal year, the appropriation for the collection of war taxes being increased from $15,500,000 to $21,000,000.

A saving will be effected by the provision in the bill for the discontinuance of the sub-treasuries at Baltimore, Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco which are considered no longer necessary under the federal reserve bank system.

The bill also provides for 178 fewer specific salaries than were provided for the current fiscal year and 2279 fewer specific salaries than were asked for. It provides for a total of 19,435 specific salaries.

Inasmuch as the House appropriations committee does not possess the authority to recommend in the bill increases in the salaries and wages of government officials or employees beyond those fixed by staute, provision is made in it for the creation of a "joint commission of reclassification of salaries" to investigate the rate of compensation paid to civilian employees of the government of the District of Columbia for the purpose of determining to what extent they are entitled to increase in order to meet the increased cost of living.

MARSHALD MUST RIDE IN CHEAPER AUTOMOBILE.

An interesting item in the bill is the cut from $5000 to $2000 for automobiles used by both the Vice-President, as the presiding officer of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House.

Appropriations for the House are increased $27,669, while those for the Senate are reduced $96,020. The largest cut is made in the war department's appropriations, amounting to $6,277,250 for temporary employees and $1,740,770.88 for contingent expenses and rent.

The largest increase is that of $13,650,760 for the census office for the taking of the fourteenth census in 1920, while the internal revenue service, burdened by collections of greatly increased taxes, is provided with an increase of $2,238,000.

The navy department suffers far less than the war department in cuts in appropriations, a decrease of $164,686.73 for temporary employees and of $435,000 for contingent expenses and rent being provided for the administration branch of the navy.

2 Destroyers Lost in Gale Out of Malta

FERROL, Spain, Jan. 10.—Two Australian destroyers that sailed from the British naval station at Malta are missing in a storm. The missing warcraft were members of a group of six that had sailed from Malta.

Mary Pickford Is Past Danger Mark

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—"Uninterrupted improvement" was the report issued today by Dr. R. B. Griffith, who is caring for Mary Pickford during her attack of influenza. The well-known actress was much stronger today, the physicians said, and barring unlooked for complications all danger is practically over.

Wilson Loses Fight on "Freedom of Seas"

N. Y. STRIKERS REJECT PLAN TO END STRIFE

Committee of Marine Workers Turn Down Proposal for Resumption of Harbor Activities Pending Conference

While Cable Action Is Awaited From President Wilson an "Unconditional Surrender" to Demands Asked

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The strike committee of the Marine Workers' Affiliation unanimously voted today to reject the proposal of A. H. Smith, eastern regional director of railroads, for a 48-hour resumption of harbor activities pending conferences between government, boat owners' and boatmen's representatives, with the object of attempting a settlement of the harbor strike.

"UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER" ASKED.

Just as word was received here of expected action by President Wilson, by means of a trans-Atlantic cable message, to attempt a settlement of the strike which has tied up all harbor traffic, officers of the Marine Workers' Affiliation went into conference declaring that no solution would be accepted other than "unconditional surrender" of the boat owners, whose refusal to arbitrate their employees' demands for higher wages and an eight-hour day precipitated the walkout.

The railroad administration completed arrangements which were expected by nightfall to re-establish on a normal basis the city's supply of milk and perishable foods. The railroad officials, whose ferries, lighters and barges ordinarily bring thousands of tons of provisions into Manhattan every day, undertook on an extensive scale the re-routing of these shipments.

FOOD IS CONVEYED BY LOYAL CREWS.

It was expected that actual suffering as a result of the strike would be reduced to a minimum.

Several of the Lackawanna railroad's nine ferryboats, whose crews stood by the leaders of their own union and defied the strike order of the Marine Workers' Affiliation, were operating today.

Staten Island also was given limited passenger service when uniformed policemen began operation of one of the municipal boats, with expectations of having another in service later in the day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — The New York harbor strike has been referred to President Wilson in Paris. He has been advised by cable of the serious situation. At the White House advices were expected from him soon.

Sinn Feiners Batter Cells, Make Threats

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—Serious disturbances have taken place at Mount Joy prison, where a number of Sinn ordinary prisoners, while claiming treatment as political offenders.

The prisoners are reported to have broken the windows and damaged the cells.

The approaching assembly session, the date of which has not yet been fixed, will determine the terms of a constitution for Ireland. Sinn Fein plans for the assembly are delayed because thirty-four of those recently elected to the British parliament are in jail.

Many meetings are being held throughout Ireland demanding that the imprisoned ones be set free. It is rumored that the government soon will release them.

Nationality, the leading Sinn Fein organ, says that diplomatic considerations may prove effective, "but if the demand is ignored the Irish people must act soon in a way the British government cannot ignore."

"The peace conference," it continues, "assembles Monday. There is no time to be lost. The national assembly must act at once."

Latin in Law Frees Baker Street Crowd

Because framers of the law under which the members of the Baker street club case defendants were convicted used Latin words, instead of English, in certain instances, the law has been held unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, and the twenty-five men involved in the Baker-street club cases will be freed. The decision of the supreme court will prevent the prosecution of similar cases, it is believed, as there is no other law that provides adequate punishment. The decision was in the appeal of Don Gono, one of the Baker-street defendants.

KARL LIEBKNECHT SAVED BY HIS SUPPORTERS FROM GOVERNMENT MEN BENT UPON LYNCHING HIM

Two Hundred Killed Since First of Week in Riots in Berlin, Where Ebert Government, Slowly Gaining Upper Hand, Promises to Bring Rebellion to Close

POLICE HEADQUARTERS FALL TO FUSILEER GUARD

(By United Press)

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 10.—Karl Liebknecht, leader of the Spartacans, narrowly escaped lynching Wednesday evening, a despatch to the Berlingske Tidende reported today.

A mob dragged Liebknecht from a taxicab in Unter Den Linden, according to the despatch, but he was rescued by Spartacans before he had suffered any serious injury. Addressing a crowd later, Liebknecht said:

"Government supporters have just attempted to lynch me, but we routed them. We have formed a revolutionary committee, therefore we will arm and remain in the streets."

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Jan. 9, 7 p. m.—Determined attacks by the government forces on the plants of the Tageblatt and the Voissische Zeitung, which were still in the hands of the Spartacans, have been going on with short intervals of inaction since noon.

It is estimated more than 200 persons have been killed in Berlin fighting since Monday. Hospitals cared for 300 wounded yesterday.

The machine gun firing in the newspaper quarter is almost continuous and the adjacent streets are not open to traffic either, because they have been closed by military posts or because the bullets from encounters nearby render them unsafe.

The government has a large number of troops in readiness and the attacks seem likely to continue to a decision.

The Wolff Bureau offices were not the object of an attack during the day, but they were the scene of a short combat during the night.

The plant of the Vorwaerts is being carefully guarded by the extremists. Scattered shots have fallen about the building during the day, but no attack has yet been made on it.

With the exception of the fighting just described the city has been quieter than on any day since Sunday.

The followers of Dr. Karl Liebknecht have issued their Red Flag from a private plant.

EBERT FORCES HOLD MOST OF THE CITY.

BERLIN, Jan. 9, 3 p. m.—The government forces were in complete control this afternoon of that section of the inner city between the Brandenburg gate and Friederichstrasse. It issued an order prohibiting all processions.

The government scored a decided victory in the capture of police headquarters, which has been one of the Spartacans' strongholds. The building was taken by the Fusilier Guards after a short fight.

The Spartacans apparently are losing hope. They failed to summon a mass-meeting of their supporters today and the streets were almost deserted.

DEFEATED IN ATTACK ON FOREIGN OFFICE.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 10.—The fighting in Berlin, which the Berlinske Tidende describes as victory for the government, began Wednesday afternoon, when the Spartacans were defeated in an attack against the foreign office. At midnight a battle was raging in southwestern and central Berlin.

GENERAL STRIKE IS DECLARED THROUGHOUT ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—A general strike was declared throughout the Argentina Republic at midnight last night.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—Sailors and soldiers with rifles and machine guns patrolled the streets today, following a night of strike rioting, in which many were killed and injured.

In fighting at the Vazna Iron Works, soldiers turned machine guns on the strikers, who replied to this fire with machine guns taken from the arsenal when they raided it. Six were killed and many wounded.

The Catholic Girls' school was set afire by the strikers, but none was hurt.

Socialist deputies demanded to know why the government permitted the disorders. This precipitated a fight in congress.

Newspapers were not sold on the streets today, only enough copies being printed for delivery to subscribers.

Half the police went on strike. Others joined them. As a result there were no police on the streets.

Mobs estimated at 150,000 have terrorized the city. Many buildings and one church have been burned.

When the arsenal was raided the guards were overpowered. Large quantities of arms and ammunition were distributed to small groups of rioters throughout the city.

QUARTER MILLION IN LIBERTY BONDS IS LOST BY INDIANA CORPORATION

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A remarkable disappearance of $250,000 in Liberty bonds consigned by the First National Bank of Detroit, Mich., to the Studebaker Corporation at South Bend, Ind., remained a mystery today, although the loss has been known for a week.

The circumstances are said to indicate a clever robbery. The bonds, 25 in number and of the $10,000 denomination, bear numbers from 23,734 to 23,758 inclusive.

Postoffice records at South Bend are said to show that five registered packages were delivered to the Studebaker offices on January 4. The postmaster has five receipts. Studebaker employees found four of the packages, but the fifth, which contained the bonds, was missing.

President A. R. Erskine of the Studebaker corporation today denied flatly that the Liberty bonds were ever delivered to his corporation.

He contradicted statements of postal authorities who said they had a receipt from the corporation for the bonds.

The bonds had been mailed to the corporation by a Detroit bank.

FAMILY OF FIVE BEHEADED WHILE SUFFERING FROM FLU; THEN BURNED

OXFORD JUNCTION, Ia., Jan. 10.—The five members of the Frank Blizek family, whose bodies were found in the ruins of their burned home near here late yesterday, were murdered, according to evidence gathered by the coroner of Jones county at the inquest today.

According to E. L. Magruder, an attorney assisting the coroner, the head of each body was missing, while other parts of the bodies were not badly burned.

Besides the body of Blizek, the bodies of his wife, two daughters, Mary, 14, Lucille, 4, and a son, Frank Jr. were found in the ruins.

The heads of each body had been cleanly removed. The family may have been burned to death, but Magruder and others say that the condition of the bodies indicates murder. The coroner's jury returned an open verdict directing the official to conduct an immediate investigation.

All members of the family were ill with influenza or pneumonia, but all had recovered enough to have been able to leave their beds if the fire had been discovered by them. The fire was discovered by neighbors shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the building was nearly totally destroyed.

According to Magruder no weapon was found in the ruins.

ROUND TABLE ON PEACE TO BE CONVENED

Clemenceau and Lloyd George Win Sea Question Point, So That Little Will Be Said of It When Conference Opens

Land Claims of Italy Not to Be Allowed in Full Due to Opposition of Jugo-Slavs on Eastern Shores of Adriatic

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Advices from Paris indicate that Premier Clemenceau and Lloyd George have scored a great success on the question of the freedom of the seas and that very little is likely to be said on this subject when the actual peace conference assembles.

The Spanish-Moroccan question also has been settled to the satisfaction of England and France.

Premier Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer; A. J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and George Nicoll Barnes, privy councillor, have been appointed plenipotentiaries to the peace congress by the British cabinet, according to the Express and Mail.

William Morris Hughes, premier of Australia; Sir Robert Borden, premier of Canada, and General Lewis Botha, premier of the Union of South Africa, will be the colonial representatives.

The delegates will go to Paris tomorrow to attend sittings of the inter-allied conference.

NEGOTIATIONS ABOUT TO BE UNDERTAKEN.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Conversations which will lay the foundation of the actual peace congress are about to start. Suggestions have been made to the French and American representatives while awaiting arrival of the British plenipotentiaries tomorrow.

The first few conferences between the Americans, French and British probably will develop just how much progress may be expected before President Wilson goes home next month. Some Americans here are agreed that the most Wilson can hope to report at home will probably be a general undertaking of the widest sort.

The United States, England and Japan are expected to oppose any undue territorial claims by Italy at the peace conference, it was learned here today.

ORLANDO FIRM IN POSITION, IS BELIEF.

This subject has been brought to the forefront by the conference of President Wilson and Premier Orlando of Italy.

The Jugo-Slav interests bitterly criticise the position of Italy, claiming that territory given to her at the northern end of the Adriatic sea opens a way to direct trade routes to the east.

Therefore, it is contended Italy should not have more land on the eastern coast of the Adriatic than nationality warrants.

It is understood that the President explained that the United States would back Italy to the limit in the claim for national territory, but said that America could not accept Italy's position as to demands on the eastern coast of the Adriatic sea.

Premier Orlando spoke in a conciliatory way, but it is evident that the question is not yet definitely settled.

WILSON DISAPPOINTED IN DELAY OF PEACE.

It is not an over-statement to say that Mr. Wilson and the American commissioners have been disappointed in meeting delays. Various elements are recognized as reasons for deferring the start toward peace, but it seems plain that the influence of the United States is about to be exerted for steps which without further delay will permit a start.

Up to the present all the progress that has been made has been in President Wilson's conferences with French, British and Italian statesmen. The most that can be said is that the conferences have approached only broad principles.

The conversations about to begin will probably take on the nature of a round table at which the progress that has been made with individual countries will be brought into the discussion and general agreements will be sought.

Advise Procedure to Punish Wilhelm

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Proceedings against the former German emperor are advised in a special report by a sub-committee of the commission charged with inquiring into violations of the laws of war appointed two months ago. Plans for a tribunal which will try cases in which violations are alleged have already been submitted.

Although conclusions may not, therefore, be reached in a majority of cases for some months, it is not denied that steps have been taken to secure and arrest offenders.

MAN DYING FROM SHOT IN QUARREL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Charged with shooting John Pedea, a fellow employee, and seriously wounding him, Henry Swarthout, employed at the Pioneer Motor Works, 305 Golden Gate avenue, is under arrest charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

According to the statement of Swarthout, he had quarreled with Pedea over some work on which they were jointly employed and the Atallan attempted to assault him with a crowbar. Running into the office, he took a revolver out of the drawer and returned to the shop with the gun in his hand. Pedea came toward him holding the bar in a threatening manner, he says, and Swarthout drew a revolver and fired one shot, the bullet entering the left cheek and lodging at the base of the brain.

Pedea, who is married, may die, according to the doctors at the Central Emergency hospital, where he was taken.

Dry Ratification Is Recommended Senate Delaying Motion Rejected

The hearing ended with the stating of charges of bad faith and kindred offenses on the part of the anti-prohibitionists by Miss Marie Brehm, of Lon Beach, a representative of the California Dry Federation. These were denied categorically by Assemblyman Bismarck Bruck, of St. Helena, who earlier in the evening had tried in vain to have the hearing postponed to a later date.

Before a throng of hundreds plainly divided in its sentiments and applause, California's Legislature, through a joint meeting of its House and Senate Federal relations committees, last night prepared to pass final judgment on the decade-old question of State prohibition. The question before the House was the proposed ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment, which was presented to both houses Tuesday and passed on to the committees named for a concisive and definite recommendation.

The prohibitionists were given the privilege of initial presentation of their case when Rev. Dr. D. M. Gandier, a Methodist clergyman of Los Angeles, addressed the throng for thirty minutes. The big Assembly chamber, where the meeting was held, gave an occasional and lusty echo of applause to his most striking statements.

REV. DR. GANDIER CITES ARMY ORDER

"The United States Government considered it a crime to sell or give liquor to its soldiers and sailors, who represented the best in our manhood," Dr. Gandier said. "Every thinking citizen said: 'If they keep liquor from them, why not keep it from us also.'

"The dry places have not been going wet, but the wet places have been going dry. This means that prohibition has worked everywhere.

"We do not need any more wet States to ratify prohibition. We have enough dry States lined up to give us thirty-seven States all told, one more than necessary to make the amendment operative."

The election of Governor Stephens and Lieutenant-Governor Young on a "dry" platform was a "mandate from the State that national prohibition should be ratified," Rev. Gandier said.

Regarding the reported destruction of the vineyards through prohibition, Rev. Gandier said: "The money men spend in in 'booze' will go for table grapes and the vineyards will not suffer."

"Another answer to the vineyard question is offered in the fact that the grape-growing counties have elected a big surplus of dry members to the legislature. These counties named fifteen assemblymen, ten of whom are 'dry,' and six senators, five of whom are 'dry,'" he said.

Henry Barker, of Oakland, president of the Northern California Hotel Men's Association, had the audience rise and salute the flag before he began his address.

Barker asked for a delay in the submission of the committee report.

Mrs. Stella Irvine and Mrs. Sara J. Dorr, president of the southern section and State president, respectively, of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, said that as representatives of the home, womanhood and moral interests of the State, they had pledged themselves to work to the utmost for ratification.

Theodore A. Bell, attorney for the California Grape Protective Association and recently independent candidate for governor, appeared as the principal spokesman for the wet forces. Addressing the dry proponents, he said:

"You voted against the Rominger bill, which provided for the elimination of the saloon. When you did that you voted with the saloonkeeper. Why did you do it? Because you knew that if you eliminated the saloon you would remove the chief argument whereby you work on the hearts and minds of the people to bring about total prohibition.

BELL SAYS IT IS "SHOWDOWN" IN STATE

"This is 'showdown' in the state of California. This experiment of prohibition has been tried and by every test that may be applied as a corrective of intemperance it has failed. Maine started off with prohibition in 1846. Many other states followed. They all swung back to regulatory laws with the exception of Maine and Kansas. I had reason to investigate conditions in these two states. I found more drunkenness in Maine than in California with all her vineyards.

"The example set there convinces me that if prohibition comes it should be enforced to the strictest letter. But how is it going to be done?

"Let us get closer home. I have undeniable proof that since the establishment of prohibition as an institution in Oregon and Washington 50,000 private breweries and distilleries have been established in those states. They have brought the distillery business right into the home, which we were always taught should be kept sacred. The kitchen range is being put to a new use.

"We are not very far apart on the question of intemperance, but we differ largely on the question of corrective measures. There are enough votes in this state to put the 'straight-up' bar out of business and to eliminate the vicious treating habit. But you do not see it that way. You consider prohibition as an end rather than a means to an end. Prohibition is not an end in itself, but merely a proposed remedy. It has not proven effective in practice.

"You can never elect a candidate to this legislature on a straight prohibition ticket. You must work through the other parties. You have so adjusted it that the minority which you represent has apparently gained control. Thus, through this minority, you seek to control the majority, which has already repeatedly voted down prohibition."

Bell accused the California dry federation of placing signs across the streets of Pasadena and other cities asking the electorate to vote "No" on the Rominger bill.

Speaking of the effect of prohibition on the vineyards, Bell said:

"Have you women of the south—of the entire belt—in districts we are trying to promote, no sympathy for the women of Napa county and the other vineyard counties? Their sympathies are the same as yours, their loyalty to state and nation as deep-seated. Abraham Lincoln proposed compensation to the slave owners when the slaves were freed, yet you would bankrupt a great number of vineyard owners who were invited to this state by this selfsame legislature and encouraged to remain here."

The sale of habit-forming drugs and narcotics would increase enormously and the illicit brewing of ardent spirits would thrive in the event of prohibition, Bell said.

"Reports of the government internal revenue service showed 20,000 illicit distilleries in southern states during 1918," he said.

California grapes are not adapted to the manufacture of grape juice and grape syrups, because they lack the necessary pungency, and prohibition would result in a general uprooting of vineyards and great economic disaster, Bell said.

"Prohibition would be a national calamity because of the evils that it breeds," he said.

WOULD DIVORCE VON BRINCKEN

against her husband and his associates. A letter in her handwriting was introduced, its importance hinging on its referring to the settlement of a champagne bill or a message that $1700 was to be paid for the destruction of a railroad tunnel in the Selkirk mountains, Canada. The men were found guilty in the federal courts and sentenced to serve terms in the federal prisons.

When Von Brincken left San Francisco for Fort McDowell as a prisoner on April 8, 1917, there was an affecting scene between the German officer and his young wife. Mrs. von Brincken accompanied her husband to the vessel and bade him a tearful farewell.

Lieutenant von Brincken objected to the restraint placed upon his personal liberty on Angel island, and on his behalf family and friends sought to gain for him his release on parole. Mrs. George A. McGowan, his mother-in-law, was named among those active in the effort which was put forth unsuccessfully in May, 1917. In July of the same year came his transfer from Angel island to Fort Winfield Scott, where he was held as prisoner by the military authorities under a heavily armed guard. The change was made at von Brincken's request and although he forfeited many privileges, he declared that daily visits from his beautiful young wife was recompense enough. He was allowed little opportunity for conversation except with Mrs. von Brincken.

BROKEN HEARTS AT LAST MEETING OF PAIR

An hour's visit with his wife and two children at their apartments at the Palace Hotel was permitted von Brincken on the eve of his departure for McNeill's island to begin serving the two-year sentence which had been imposed upon him. This occurred on May 1, 1918. Tears and broken hearts marked that farewell. This is the date which Mrs. von Brincken names in her complaint as the final separation.

As Milo Abercrombie, Mrs. von Brincken was pointed out as one of the most beautiful of the younger girls in San Francisco society. Her winsomeness has made her much sought after. Born in New Orleans, she grew up with all the traditions of the old south. She is related to the "Stonewall" Jackson family. Coming to California as a young girl she finished her education in Miss Harkness' school in Palo Alto. Her father was the late Gustave Milo Abercrombie, formerly associated with the Crocker-Woolworth bank.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—News that the West Virginia legislature had ratified the national prohibition amendment brought the total number of States that have completed the prohibition ratification to twenty-two. Colorado had been included in the list erroneously. The Colorado Senate on January 8 approved the resolution on third and final reading. Yesterday the House passed it on second reading, and it is expected to pass on final reading today.

The complete list of States that have ratified the prohibition amendment are, successively, as follows: Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Dakota, Maryland, Montana, Texas, Delaware, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Arizona, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, Maine, Idaho, Tennessee and West Virginia.

AMERICANS NOT TO ENTER BERLIN U. S. TO WITHHOLD INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The American government has no present intention of sending its forces to Berlin.

The fact was learned on high official authority today in the wake of the Prussian capital revolution and the new hints that doughboys would be welcomed. The propaganda in favor of American occupation emanates mainly from the middle-of-the-road group.

The United States government, however, believes that intervention internally now would provoke trouble rather than settle it.

While early advices indicate a trend toward defeat of the Liebknecht group, it is pointed out here that the Spartacus men as the aggressive force are seeking to dominate the coming elections, even though past tests have shown they constitute a minority. Should the Spartacus group gain control, indemnities will be refused, it is said, and the only way to collect them will be by force.

Slays Self Before S. F. Park Monument

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Climbing the approach to the McKinley monument at Golden Gate Park, L. A. Scott, 40, well-known Marysville lodge man, shot and killed himself today.

Scott drew an automatic pistol from his pocket, faced the monument, and shot himself through the heart. Mrs. Scott is believed to be stopping here. A letter to her was found in his pocket.

137 NEW FLU CASES HERE IN 24 HOURS

A total of 137 new cases of influenza was reported to the health department for the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock this morning. There were 12 deaths in the same period. New cases reported up to 11 o'clock numbered but 12 with two deaths.

J. H. Mellon, secretary of the board, stated that he hoped the small number of cases reported this morning meant tha tthe disease was again on the wane, but that he would not be surprised if it was due to the failure on the part of physicians to report new cases.

The response to the call for volunteer nurses is meeting with a more generous response today, and a number of nurses were sent out this morning to care for district cases. The nursing bureau is being handled by the Red Cross.

From present indications the health department believes that by the end of the week fully 100 cases of indigent poor will have been taken care of in the local private hospitals that have agreed to take care of these patients at a fixed rate of $3 a day per patient.

Asked if this rate was a reduction over the usual hospital rate Dr. Crosby said it was and that the rate included medical attendance, which is additional to the usual custom of hospitals.

"The hospitals will lose money on many of these cases," said Dr. Crosby. "The rate is a very low one."

Flu Takes Baby as Six Others Improve

While Mrs. Bernard T. Miller and five children were convalescing from influenza, the youngest child, Robert, 17 months old, was stricken and yesterday died at the family home, 1856 East Twenty-fifth street. The infant was the son of Captain Bernard T. Miller, a former Oakland attorney, now stationed at Camp Alexander, Newport News, Va., with the Twelfth Infantry.

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates! Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone

I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad, stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful wil lclean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless, and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Advertisement.

SINGLE VOTE ABLE TO KILL MASKING LAW

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Charles D. Heywood's opposing vote prevented the proposed mask ordinance from passage today by the city council. Mayor Samuel C. Irving and Councilmen George P. Baxter and E. T. Harms voted for the measure. In the absence of Councilman Charles M. Boynton in the East, the needed four-fifths vote to pass an emergency measure was prevented by Heywood's stand.

Despite the fact that Dr. J. J. Benton, Berkeley health officer, and Dr. Robert T. Legge, University of California physician, recommended that masks be again adopted as a most important measure of safeguarding against a spread of influenza, Councilman Heywood declared that other medical authorities were not convinced in their approval of the gauze protectors, and until medical experts agree he would not vote for the re-masking of Berkeley. He declared also that he did not favor the adoption of masks in Berkeley unless other bay cities took similar action.

Heywood's opposition brought a clash between him and Dr. Benton, whose duties as health officer come under the former's jurisdiction. Dr. Benton accused Heywood of failing to give correct figures in counting the number of cases of influenza recorded in Berkeley after the masks had been adopted.

This morning's rejection of the ordinance comes in the wake of appeals of University of California authorities asking that masks be adopted as a means of safeguarding students attending the university should that institution open for the spring semester. Criticism of the university's reported statement that college would not be opened until masking laws were enforced in Berkeley was voiced before the council by Attorney C. C. Boynton, an objector to the mask ordinance, who declared that a writ of mandate might be asked to force the university to open whether masks are adopted or not. Boynton said the attitude of the university "was unlawful and autocratic," and as savoring of German kultur.

Other opponents of the ordinance who appeared before the council were Peter V. Ross, Mrs. Agnes Cleaveland, Mrs. A. Allen and others. Voicing sentiments in favor of the proposed law were: Dr. J. J. Benton, city health officer; Dr. Robert T. Legge, University of California physician, and Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, member of the University of California faculty and official of the Berkeley Board of Health.

The ordinance, which was defeated as an emergency measure, was introduced by Councilman Baxter. It provides that masks must be worn in places where more than two persons are congregated, but does not stipulate against persons going unmasked on the streets. While defeated as an emergency measure, the ordinance will go into effect in thirty days as a regular measure, unless new action is taken by the council.

Peter Della Santa Dies of Influenza

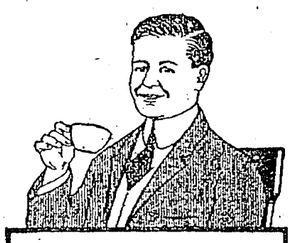

Peter Della Santa died last night of influenza, a few days after the death of his granddaughter, Lily Della Santa, another influenza victim and a Lincoln Grammar school attendant. Della Santa for years operated a restaurant at Park and Lincoln avenue. He was a widely-known Alameda character. He leaves a wife and a son, Victor. He was 69 years of age.

Louisa Newland Berryman, a high school student, died at her home, 2220 Santa Clara ave., Alameda. She was 15 years of age and the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Berryman. She was the sister of Captain Ernest Berryman of the Alameda fire department, and of Nelson and Oswald Berryman, Mrs. W. E. Behrns and Mrs. T. C. Kirk, of San Francisco.

Influenza Spread Is Alarming North

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—County, city and high school district officials are organizing their forces today for a joint fight against the alarming spread of the influenza.

Compared to Wednesday's 327 new cases, a decrease was noted yesterday, when 218 sufferers were reported, but the deaths jumped from 11 to 17.

The Truth

is sometimes painful. For instance when the doctor says one must give up the dearly loved cup of coffee.

INSTANT POSTUM

U. C. Opening Date Is Postponed

Situation in Alameda Improves

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—As a result of uncertainty as to whether masks will be ordered on in Berkeley and the bay cities, opening of the University of California for the spring semester was postponed another week, according to an announcement made last night by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler.

"Measures of prevention which San Francisco and Berkeley are about to adopt make it reasonably certain that it will be safe to open the university on January 20," was the statement of President Wheeler which accompanied the announcement last night of further postponement of the beginning of the spring semester.

A total of 131 new cases of influenza, approximately half the number reported yesterday, was announced by health officials today as Berkeley's toll in the last twenty-four hours. Four deaths were reported for the same period.

Resolutions urging that masks be ordered on in Berkeley were sent to the city council today by the Berkeley Defense Corps, Victor R. McHale, secretary.

The resolutions set forth:

"We fully realize that in any emergency there are a certain number of wilful obstructionists who desire to place personal privilege before civic good, and it is usually this 'wilful few' who make their voices heard above the multitude, thereby trying to convince the public that they are the majority. We therefore wish to go on record as an organization of law-abiding citizens of Berkeley who have the utmost confidence in the city council of Berkeley, and respectfully ask that your judgment in any action you take be controlled by the wisdom of your medical advisors rather than by the protests of the few."

ALAMEDA, Jan. 10.—The health department of Alameda is busy with a promised statement on the flu situation. The physicians of Alameda are busy drawing up a joint statement on flu for publication. It was reported that there was an improvement in the situation. It was further stated that the Red Cross would back and support any move made for combatting the flu but was not taking the initiative, or taking sides in the mask controversy. The mayor, who was empowered last Tuesday night by the city council to appoint a citizens' influenza committee to establish a flu hospital if necessary, is still awaiting definite information on the alternative proposition of having the Red Cross take charge.

City Physician Arthur Hieronymus said this morning that the influenza situation was showing improvement. He saw no need of ordering the wearing of masks, being doubtful of any benefit to be derived. He reiterated the advice to keep away from crowds and to observe simple rules of hygiene, diet and general health.

There were fifteen cases reported to the health office this morning. The full volume of daily cases will not be reported till this afternoon.

LIEBKNECHT IS ATTACKED BY MOB

five persons were killed. The government forces were aided by aviators.

Later the government troops attacked the Lehrterr railway station on the north bank of the Spree, opposite the Tiergarten.

Results of the elections to the national assembly in Baden have been disappointing to the radicals, the Freiheit of Berlin admits. The Independent Socialists failed to elect a single representative. The Bourgeoise parties elected 72 representatives against 39 for the majority Socialists.

The immediate removal of the Ebert government is demanded of the soldiers' and workmen's councils of Germany in a resolution adopted at Leipsic by the great soldiers' and workmen's council, according to a telegram reaching here from that city.

GOVERNMENT PARTY IS GAINING GROUND.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Ebert government is steadily gaining control in Berlin and the Spartacus element is losing ground though still showing great determination, according to the latest news. Fighting raged through Tuesday night and up until noon Wednesday in Berlin and there were a number of casualties. Gustav Noske, in charge of the government's defense measures, has gained control of the railways and is bringing large forces into the city, where a state of siege has been declared.

Great difficulty is found in establishing the sequence of events at Berlin with any accuracy owing to the fact that a great number of the despatches received have been without dates.

According to the Neueste Nachrichten of Leipsic the government has the upper hand in the center of the city, but the Spartacans hold the east end and the suburbs.

An important statement comes from the Frankfort Gazette, which says that the Republican guard, consisting of 3000 men, which was Chief of Police Eichhorn's guard, has placed itself at the disposal of the government and that the Berlin garrison, which has been holding a neutral position, has also placed itself on the side of the government.

Another semi-official statement from Frankfort says the government has at its disposal 80,000 local troops.

There have been various reports of the Ebert government resigning and the possible occupation of Berlin by entente and American troops. None of these rumors has been confirmed.

The effort was repulsed. Two persons were killed and six wounded.

Mrs. Ella M. Maurice Victim of Influenza

The death of Mrs. Ella Martha Maurice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hogan, occurred yesterday at her home in Suisun after an illness of a few days. Mrs. Maurice was a victim of the epidemic. Born in Buffalo, N. Y., she was educated in Oakland.

A requiem mass for the repose of her soul will be celebrated tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The interment will be private. Mrs. Maurice is survived by her husband, Roscoe C. Maurice; her parents, a sister, Mrs. May R. Cook, and four brothers, Hugh W., William C., Harold R. and Howard R. Hogan. She was the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hogan of Oak street.

Wedding Changed to Funeral by Plague

Death interrupted the marriage plans of Ben Griff of New York and Miss Vivian Martin, 432 Thirty-seventh avenue, when yesterday the bride-elect died as a result of an attack of influenza followed by pneumonia. Griff is en route from New York. Upon his arrival plans for the wedding were to be hastened. Miss Martin, who made her home with an uncle, Joseph McCall, had been ill for several days. Her parents reside in Santa Rosa.

No Progress Made in Fighting Plague

SAN JOSE, Jan. 10.—Six deaths and 59 new influenza cases within 24 hours indicates that no progress has been made in checking the influenza epidemic. To the list of prominent people who have succumbed is now added the name of Mrs. B. E. Kell, wife of the out-going coroner. She passed away yesterday afternoon after a brief illness.

Santa Rosa Masked; Theaters Are Closed

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 10.—Everyone wore anti-flu masks here today. The theaters and schools were closed. Influenza cases here have proved dangerous in many instances. Dancehalls and saloons remain open until 6 p. m.

Twenty Deaths Are Listed Across Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Twenty deaths and 452 new cases of influenza within the past twelve hours were reported today by the Board of Health. This is an increase of 153 new cases and seven deaths over yesterday.

B. F. McCoy of Berkeley Is Dead

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—Influenza followed by pneumonia proved fatal last night to Benjamin Franklin McCoy, well-known employee of the Berkeley branch of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, who succumbed at his home in Oakland, aged 34 years.

McCoy had been associated with the office staff of the Berkeley office of the gas company for the past eight years. He was born in Marysville and is survived by a widow, Ruby McCoy; his mother, Mrs. W. L. McCoy; a brother, Elmer G. McCoy, and a sister, Mrs. Lillie May Elwell.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Berkeley lodge of Elks from local undertaking parlors.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by The Owl Drug Company and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

SAYS COLD WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF INFLUENZA

Public Must Be Careful To Avoid A Second Epidemic. Easier To Prevent Than Cure. What To Do.

"Encouraging reports of the fewer cases of influenza in this vicinity should not allow us to relax our vigilance or to become careless in the belief that the danger is all over," says a well-known authority. With the coming of cold weather there is apt to be a return of this frightful epidemic and its seriousness will depend on the extent of the precautions, taken by the public, to prevent infection.

When the air is full of influenza germs you may be constantly breathing them into your nose and throat. But their danger may be avoided and you may make yourself practically immune to infection if you destroy the germ before it actually begins work in your blood.

During the recent serious epidemic, which hit Oakland so hard, most successful results were obtained by many through the simple breathing into the nose, throat and lungs of the medicated air of oil of Hyomei. Probably no better, safer or more sensible precaution against Influenza, Grippe, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis or Catarrh of the nose and throat could be employed than to go now to the nearest drug store and get a complete Hyomei outfit consisting of a bottle of the pure Oil of Hyomei and a little vest pocket hard rubber inhaling device into which a few drops of the oil are poured.

Carry this inhaler with you during the day and each half hour or so put it in your mouth and draw deep breaths of its pure healing germicidal air into the passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy any germs that may have found lodgement there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks' work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive, as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of the Oil of Hyomei can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Hundreds of people in this vicinity used Hyomei in this way during the recent crisis and avoided danger. They should not neglect it now, for the danger is by no means over. For sale by The Owl Drug Co. stores.—Advertisement

Skull Fractured by Blow of Street Car

William J. Turner, a laborer residing in San Francisco, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries at 1:30 o'clock this morning when he was hit by a San Pablo car at Thirtieth and San Pablo avenue. The man was jammed under the front trucks of the car and the police called the fire truck to aid in jacking up the car to get him out.

ROMANCE OF YEAR ENDS WITH BANG

DENVER, Col., Jan. 10.—A romance of a year has exploded with a loud bang, it has just been learned, through the filing here of a suit for divorce by Mrs. Dorothy Webb Leavitt, noted horsewoman and beauty, against Ralph J. Leavitt. It was Mrs. Leavitt it is alleged, who first declared she would rather kiss a horse than a man, but with true, womanly inconsistency, reversed herself and married Mr. Leavitt in Kansas City, in July, 1917. Now under cover of a convenient provision of Colorado divorce law permitting the suppression from the vulgar press of particulars in divorce cases, Mrs. Leavitt has brought her action, although as far as can be learned, the charges are only cruelty and incompatibility. The marriage attracted considerable attention in several states because of the social prominence of both bride and groom. Miss Dorothy Webb, whose home was originally Greenwich, Conn., had been an exhibitor in the Madison Square Horse Shows for several seasons. An expert horsewoman, she was the owner of a large stable of thoroughbreds in which she took great pride.

BARTENDERS' CLUB STAGES LAST "ACT"

The last act in the drama which resulted in the breaking up of the Bartenders' Club was staged late yesterday when the police, acting on orders issued by Judge Mortimer Smith, destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of gambling paraphernalia and turned into the sewer a flood of liquor which was captured when the club was raided by Captain Thorvald Brown and his squad some weeks ago.

Herman Loorz, manager of the club, was fined $200 for illegal sale of liquor and the club, which has operated for eleven years, and which has been repeatedly raided, now goes into the discard.

DECOY SINKS 2 SUBS IN ONE DAY

FALMOUTH, England, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two German submarines were sunk in one day by the Mary B. Mitchell, a sailing vessel, one of the "mystery ships" of the war now exhibited here. This craft was one of the first, if not the first, of the decoy ships which played havoc with the U-boats. This vessel went into the decoy service early in 1916, under command of Lieutenant John Lowrie. All her officers and crew volunteered for the hazardous work. She was provided with a twelve-pounder and two well-concealed six-pounders.

Delilah's Samson, Modern, Is Freed

Shorn Woman Secures 'Wild Man'

Romance, crime, a woman's inconsistency and echoes from the film world figured in the modern story of the Samson who sheared his Delilah, as told in Police Judge Samuels court this morning by Elizabeth Atcheson, better known on the celluloid circuit as "Queen Liz," in an effort to free Clarence Atcheson, her cavalier, from police custody.

The romance began many years ago in New York. "Queen Liz," in pigtails, was the daughter of the keeper of a theatrical boarding house. Actors and actresses filled her with tales of calciums and artificial sets. One day a flashy stranger crossed her path. Her mother thought it would be a good match. She encouraged it, and the stranger and Elizabeth were married.

CLARENCE TAKES STAGE.

Her husband turned out to be unkind. Two children which she brought him wrought no change in his attitude. Finally, in the depths of her despondency, Clarence Atcheson appeared on the scene. He told her tales of California—of the "clean air and sunny skies," she said. She finally agreed to come west with him. Together they reached Oakland, where again she tried to find the secret of romance in the heart of a man who did not understand.

Then, according to her story, Atcheson "went wild." He made threats against her life, she said. He raved and acted erratic. He threatened the neighbors. When she showed signs of leaving him, he procured a pair of scissors and clipped her locks to render her unattractive. She was proud of her hair. During her career she had become popular in film studios as "Queen Liz," and her hair had been one of her principal attractions.

This last was too much. "Queen Liz" appealed to the police. -- patrolman was sent to take him into custody. Atcheson tried to act "wild" but the policeman had seen that kind before and he took him along notwithstanding. Once in jail, "Queen Liz" charged Atcheson with half a score of things, ranging from threats against life to battery.

HER WILD MAN FREED.

This morning in court, when Atcheson appeared to meet his fate she had a change of heart. She asked for probation. She declared she wanted to marry him and would do so as soon as the New York courts would free her. Judge Samuels considered.

"I know he is a wild man, but I think I can tame him," she said, "and I want him turned loose."

"Are you a lion tamer?" asked Judge Samuels.

"His kind," she said.

The court decided that "Queen Liz" was able to handle the situation and released Atcheson from custody, with a warning against trying to emulate Caesar and conquer the world.

CONSOLIDATION GIVEN SUPPORT

Active support of the movement for city and county consolidation, as a measure of economy and better administration, was pledged by the Alameda County Civic Association at its meeting in the assembly hall in the Bacon Building last evening. In addition to the consolidation movement, the association declared its intention to make a comprehensive study of civic development.

Retiring President W. A. Knowles read the annual report and reviewed briefly the activities of the association during the last year. He strongly recommended a continuance of the efforts of the members in behalf of consolidation.

Fred E. Reed, who was elected president, urged a revival of interest in the various improvement clubs of the city, and pledged his hearty support of the consolidation movement. The necessity of promoting civic development along broader lines was pointed out by Reed.

Officers were elected as follows: Fred E. Reed, president; W. E. Gibson, vice-president; W. A. Knowles, retiring president-treasurer; Harry T. Burns, sergeant-at-arms.

George Ingraham, who has filled the position of secretary for two years, handed in his resignation. He will continue in his present position as secretary pro tem until the next meet, when his successor will be named.

Heroic Wife Fails to Save E. W. Hinds

Although Mrs. Clara English Hinds, wife of E. W. Hinds, begged that her own veins be opened when physicians declared that the only hope of her husband's recovery was in an infusion of blood, the sacrifice was vain and the former Oakland man died last night at a hospital in Santa Rosa. The body arrived in Oakland today.

Hinds is the son of Mrs. Hinds and the late Firm P. Hinds, pioneers and prominent citizens of Alameda county. When an Oakland high school student he was called "Unc" by which nickname he was known until the time of his death. After completing his preliminary work as a civil engineer he went into the mining field. In 1915 he became manager for the Island Copper Company, made up of prominent local citizens, at their properties in Trinity county.

While on duty at the mine in the middle of December he was stricken with an internal hemorrhage, and accompanied by his wife, was taken to a hospital in Santa Rosa. Physicians declared that he was fully recovered, and his discharge was fixed for last tweek. In the meantime he contracted influenza which was quickly followed by pneumonia.

Hinds is survived by a widow, Mrs. Clara English Hinds, the daughter of another pioneer family of Oakland; a young son, David Hinds; and his mother, Mrs. Firm D. Hinds.

INVESTIGATOR OF SHIPPING LET OUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10. — James L. Johnson, investigator, was dismissed yesterday by S. F. Cosgrove of Washington on charges alleged to have been filed against Johnson by officials of the Emergency Fleet Corporation here.

Johnson is charged, according to his statement this morning, with having resorted to unauthorized methods in investigating the affairs of district 7 of the United States Shipping Board, which is in charge of Captain A. S. Pillsburg as district manager and Adolphus J. Frey as assistant.

An attempt to obtain the services of a stenographer, a Miss Hickman of Oakland, formerly private secretary to Assistant Director Frey, charges of wire tapping, a la Densmore, and attempts to obtain information from certain clerks in the offices of the Emergency Fleet headquarters on Pine street here are among the alleged unauthorized methods employed by Johnson.

"These published charges are absolute, unmitigated lies," Johnson said this morning. "It is an attack upon the local department rather than upon me. The Pine street officials are apprehensive and their guilty consciences have fixed upon this method of attempting to discredit this investigating bureau in its probe of irregularities in profiteering which are charged in district number 7."

Assistant Director Frey was asked to make a statement and said: "It will be highly improper for me to discuss this matter. It is an office affair purely and simply and not one upon which I care to make any comment."

Captain Pillsbury was in an executive conference and could not be reached.

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So They Lift Out.

Local druggists are having a tremendous call for freezone, the drug which is said to shrivel a corn, root and all, without any pain.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness at once, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers.

This new drug is being dispensed at small cost in quarter ounce bottles, which is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn from one's feet. It is a sticky substance which dries at once, and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. There is no excuse for anyone inviting death by infection or lockjaw from cutting their corns now.—Advertisement.

Sergeant Robert E. Hampton, son of John Hampton, 2220 Telegraph avenue, has been awarded the Distinguished Service medal for action under fire when he displayed great coolness in assuming command of a reconnoitering party after its leader had been wounded. By young Hampton's action he brought the operation to a successful conclusion.

The young soldier was in the drafted army going overseas in March of last year with the 91st Division. He is a member of A Company, 363rd Infantry. Hampton was born and educated in Oakland and before joining the colors was employed by a local electrical firm. He went over the top without injury several times.

SHIP BOARD'S POLICY MEETS WITH SCORING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Calder of New York, Republican, speaking in the Senate, charged that the Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation have operated in an unbusinesslike manner, with "apparent disregard for expense," and urged that Congress determine the boards general policies and limit the scope of its activities. Senator Calder is a member of the Senate commerce committee, which has been investigating shipbuilding for many months.

"The Shipping Board," declared Senator Calder, "has at no time been made up of men with a knowledge of shipping or shipbuilding problems. A very large part of the time and the energies of the Fleet Corporation has been given over to building up a great and cumbersome system of supervision rather than to the building of ships.

"In the policy adopted toward labor, there has been practically no effort made to enforce ordinary discipline or to indicate to the workingmen that they were expected to render a fair return of work for the high wages paid."

LIMITED ACTIVITIES.

Senator Calder recommended that the activities of the Fleet Corporation in connection with the work of privately owned yards having contracts for ships should be limited to inspection and to rendering assistance in the supplying of materials and facilities, and that the work in Government owned yards should be carried on under the immediate control and direction of the Fleet Corporation.

Statistics show, the New York Senator declared, that the shipping program is "progressing at approximately 40 per cent of schedule speed," and that "the completion of the work will probably take nearly a year longer than the time allowed in the contracts."

Contracts for 35 per cent, or 513 ships, of the total steel tonnage planned were awarded by the board, Senator Calder said, to five shipbuilding concerns, only one of which had had experience in the work, at an estimated cost of $745,000,000, but he said this cost would approach nearer $1,000,000,000. At this rate the average cost per ton was $275, he estimated, exclusive of the cost of supervision and control.

Of the 513 ships only four had been delivered up to November 11, out of 103 promised by that date, Senator Calder said. The companies receiving the contracts were the Hog Island Shipyard, Merchant Shipbuilding Corporation, Bristol, Pa.; Submarine Boat Corporation, Newark, N. J.; Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and the Carolina Shipbuilding Corporation of Wilmington, N. C.

DISCUSSION OPENED.

Chairman Fletcher of the Senate commerce committee took exception to figures given by Senator Calder as to the cost of ship construction.

"It is impossible," said Senator Fletcher, referring to Hog Island, "to tell what the cost of these ships is when only two or three have been completed."

During the discussion Senator King of Utah, Democrat, criticized former Admiral Bowles of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for his "indecent, improper and scurrilous telegram" to Senator Fletcher, in which Admiral Bowles branded as untrue statements made by Senator Vardaman of Mississippi, relative to the construction of the Hog Island yard. The Utah Senator said Senator Vardaman was right in making his criticisms, and added that reports show that conditions at the yards "are worse than described." Senator King said Admiral Bowles should be retired from the position he holds.

LABOR NOTES

A change in the plans of the local Structural Workers' Union is announced, whereby the organization will meet on Wednesday evening of each week instead of bi-monthly, as in the past. The sessions will be held in the labor temple, corner of Eleventh and Washington streets, at 8 o'clock. At the last meeting of the union the recently elected officers were installed and reports for the past fiscal year read. The latter showed an appreciable increase in membership and in finances during the twelve month just closed.

The maintenance-of-way employees of the Southern Pacific Company at Porterville have completed an organization under the direction of International Organizer E. G. Nicholds of Huntington, W. Va., assisted by the officers of the Oakland union of the order. A charter has been received from the American Federation of Labor, according to word received here today. Walter Rawley formerly of this city, is president of the new union, and W. J. Westfall, also a former resident of this city, is secretary-treasurer.

George F. Weeks, an employee of the Key system, writes from Mexico of the invasion of the jitney bus in Mexico City. He states that the "flivver system" has received official recognition there and is being fostered by government authority to relieve the overloaded street cars. Regular lines are operated on nearly every street in the city, according to Weeks, who also states that the capital of the Mexican republic is unquestionably the "most thoroughly jitneyized city in North America."

An order just issued by the Industrial Welfare Commission, operative at once, permits a short apprenticeship for novices in the knitting, paper-box, candy, neckwear, needle trades and tailoring industries. The apprentice is to start work at $8 a week and at the end of three months is to be raised to $9, with a further raise to $10 a week at the expiration of a total apprenticeship of nine months. Night work for women in factories is restricted to the hours between 10:30 p. m. and 6:30 a. m.

By a vote of the members of the local Boilermakers' Union at the regular meeting Wednesday night, Louis Wygant, president of the International Union of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers, has been requested to come to Oakland and settle certain unsatisfactory conditions in which the union is concerned. Among the matters he is expected to adjudicate are the Macy award dispute and the long-drawn-out quarrel between the local Boilermakers' Union and the Iron Trades' Council of the San Francisco bay district.

TELLS POLICE HE TOOK MAN'S LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10. — Paul Grkovich, 43, walked into the police station here today and told the officer in charge he had killed a man whom he can only remember as "Joe" during a fight at his home at Alleghany, Penn., on the night of January 22, 1916.

Grkovich said he hit the man on the head and learned by newspapers the next day that "Joe" was dead.

Since then, he said, he had traveled from city to city throughout the United States, the thoughts that he was a murderer always haunting him to such an extent that he slept by day and worked or traveled always by night.

"I feel better now," he told the police as they locked him in a cell. "My conscience doesn't hurt so much now that I've told the story."

The Alleghany police have been notified.

Hun Treachery Decried by U.S. Men

Soldiers Tell Stories of Horror

Tales of German treachery that, however, in many cases cost the Hun perpetrator his life, were told today by some of the wounded soldiers who were made welcome at the Red Cross hut on the Oakland mole, and who are now in the Letterman Hospital at the Presidio in San Francisco. All told there were forty-six wounded officers and men in the detachment.

Crazed from the effects of a head wound, Private Elmer J. Sresovich of Los Angeles jumped from the train in Iowa, but was injured only slightly.

Private George Farotto of Gilroy, who suffered wounds of both arms in the Argonne forest, had this to say of the Germans:

CUT ARMS OFF.

"In Belgium the Germans, when evacuating a town, would notify the inhabitants that they must gather in the public square and remain there until the Germans were out of the city. The inhabitants had to obey, of course, and as the Germans withdrew they gassed the town and the helpless civilians, very few of whom had masks. In leaving a town the German troops were extremely brutal toward children.

"They seemed to find pleasure in cutting off ears or an arm of boys and girls. Frequently they tied children or old men to explosive contrivances in the cellars of private homes. When the Americans and French entered the places and sought to relieve the bound and helpless they automatically set off the bombs, frequently at the cost of many lives."

"A HUN TRICK."

Another of the tricks played by men who had been accepted prisoners in surrender was told by Sergeant Andrew Sitkoski of San Francisco, who is nursing the wounds inflicted by a high explosive bullet that found him in Flanders. According to Sitkoski this is what happened:

"At one time the Ninety-first Division opposed a regiment of Prussian guards in Flanders. We drove them off after a vigorous fight and gained their trenches, capturing several officers. One of the officers pointed to a basket of grenades in a corner and said we might as well take them, too. One of our men walked over to the basket and picked up a grenade.

"There was a string attached to it and the Germans had fastened some sort of a contrivance that exploded all the grenades as the American picked one up. Several of the men standing near were killed, but the fellow who picked up the grenade and thereby caused the explosion still lives, although he was hit seventeen times. What happened to the German officer after the explosion I don't care to say."

Gen. Foreman, Indian Fighter, Is Called

ASK $60,000 FOR NEAR-EAST RELIEF

Seeking to secure $60,000—Oakland's share of a fund of $30,000,000 being raised nationally for relief work among the people freed from Turkish rule—the Oakland committee of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East has issued an appeal for help during the week's campaign from January 12 to 19. This appeal is as follows:

"Oakland has been asked to contribute $60,000 toward the national fund for relief in the Near East, where 4,000,000 refugees from the tyrannical and criminal rule of Turkey are absolutely dependent upon the charity of America for the bare necessities of life. Of these four millions of people 400,000 are children, many of them little more than babies, whose parents have died of privation or been murdered by the Turk.

"In a single day's travel an American relief worker saw the mutilated corpses of more than 5000 outraged women, piled by the roadside. This gives a faint idea of what the Armenian, Syrian, Grecian and Jewish people of Turkey have suffered, people who have been liberated from the rule of the 'Terrible Turk' by the victory of America and her allies. It is up to America to take care of these people, no other nation is capable of doing so. Those nations which would respond gladly to this appeal, save America, are so exhausted from the terrific price they have paid in the war for world freedom that they have scarcely sufficient funds to care for their own war sufferers even with the help of America and the American Red Cross.

"In the Near East all that has been done has been carried on by the American Committee for Relief, formerly the American Committee for Armenian-Syrian Relief, but whose scope of activity has been broadened to care for all refugees from Turkish oppression.

"Every dollar contributed goes into actual relief work, all costs of administration being met out of a private fund for this particular purpose. All funds are forwarded through the Department of State.

"It will not require a great deal of effort on the part of Oakland to raise the amount of money asked, it merely means a prompt response with what you can afford to give to feed and clothe people who have suffered from the most bestial barbarities that it is possible for the human mind to conceive, barbarities which cannot find the slightest color or pretext for excuse except that the peoples who suffered were of different races and religions than that of their persecutors."

Perry Burlingame is chairman of the executive committee in charge of the campaign and Arthur P. Karbach is campaign director.

TYPHOID INROADS STOPPED IN CAL.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Since 1915 the typhoid death rate in California has been reduced 60 per cent and a loss to the state in vital capital of $1,400,000 has been avoided, said the report of the sanitary engineering bureau included in the biennial report of the California State Board of Health. The report said:

"The net result of all the effort at typhoid control has been to reduce the typhoid death rate per hundred thousand in California from 13.6 in 1914, the year before the bureau was created, to 9.7 in 1915; 7.1 in 1916, 7.4 in 1917, and indications are that a rate of 6.8 will be accomplished in 1918.

"California is now near the lowest of the states in typhoid death rate and yet there is still a vital loss to the commonwealth by this disease costing over $1,050,000 a year, which can be reduced only by measures for improved water supplies, sewage and sewage disposal, cleaner streams, cleaner milk, vaccination and the general condition of filth conditions."

One million two hundred thousand persons, more than half the urban population of the state, are supplied with water from sources equipped with disinfection works, the bureau reported, forty-five cities and towns having installed such works on recommendation of the the state bureau. Now 700 water supplies and sewage systems and 300 swimming pools are under regulation of the bureau.

"The bureau insists on far-sighted planning," said C. C. Gillespie, director. "One finds 'septic tanks,' representing hundreds of thousands of dollars, in wide use in California. Yet at the time they were built experienced sanitary engineers knew the septic tank by itself was only the preliminary stage in sewage treatment. Notwithstanding this there is scarcely a septic tank of hundreds in California that is designed to fit into a logical enlargement of the plan."

The bureau reported progress in summer resort satitation, regulation of oyster beds to prevent the taking of oysters from polluted waters and inspection of ice.

Old Clothes Asked for French People

Raphael Weill, in a recent communication to the firm of Raphael Weill & Co., San Francisco, states that the clothing situation in France is alarming—even those who have plenty of money finding it almost impossible to obtain sufficient warm apparel. So through him comes an appeal for men's, women's and children's discarded clothing and footwear—even badly worn articles—if they are clean and free from moths.

The French societies named below (in which Weill is personally interested) have appointed Miss Blanche Cahen of 3618 Sacramento street, San Francisco, to act as receiver for all donations.

Miss Cahen is accredited by the French government, which has decorated her in recognition of her efforts. The four societies which ask help are: Alsaciens Lorrains, Marguerite de Witt Schlumberger, president; L'Armoire Lorraine, Jules Terry, president; Les Cantines Maternelles, Luis Siegfried, president; Le Vestiaire du Arrondt, Comtesse Amaury de Lacretelle, president.

They do not ask that the clothing be new, or stylish, but it must be clean. Shoes may be scuffed or worn down at the heels, but the soles must be in good condition.

Packages may be left or sent to the French church, 526 Bush street, Mme. J. P. Troullet, 1228 Sutter street, or Miss Cahen's home at 3618 Sacramento street, San Francisco.

Service Certificates for War Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan 10.—Certificates of services will be issued by the American Red Cross to every one of its 250,000 workers, whether paid or voluntary, who have served for six months since the outbreak of the war. WOMEN SIT IN PARTY COUNCIL

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—For the first time in the history of the Republican party, its national committee met today to plan a presidential campaign, in co-operation with women party leaders.

Preliminary to the executive meeting of the committee today, members of the Republican women's national executive committee conferred with national committee leaders. It was believed that the women would go before the national committee when it convened shortly before noon for further discussion of campaign plans.

Chairman Hays hoped to include the routine work of the meeting at one session today. That accomplished, the remainder of the day was to be given over to an open meeting, which was expected to take the form of a Roosevelt memorial.

Governors McKelvie, Nebraska; Burnquist, Minnesota, and Beeckman, Rhode Island, were to address the meeting.

Vacancies on the national committee were to be filled by the seating of A. J. Sweet, Maine; H. F. Kean, Virginia, and Patrick Sullivan, Wyoming.

NEW SPIRIT BORN AMONG NATIONS

TOKYO, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The war has revolutionized the ideas among civilized peoples concerning internatoinal relations, declared Takashi Hara, Japan's new commoner premier in a recent interview.

"A new spirit seems to have been born among them," he said. "It seems to me that this new spirit will in the future come to sway the minds of the people in all civilized countries and govern the relations between the nations."

Speaking of peace, he said: "The idea of oppressing the German people will be repugnant to the labor parties in England and France and also to the humanitarians in America—classes of men whose sentiments their respective governments cannot ignore. Under these circumstances I am inclined to believe that comparatively moderate and fair opinions will prevail at the peace conference, with the result that the war will end in a peace under which all the nations of the world can in the future live in safety and in harmony with one another. Nobody can deny that such is the peace needed for the true welfare of mankind."

HERE'S HOW TO BANISH ODOR OUT OF ONION

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 10.—There is a non-intoxicating "beer," there have been stories of brayless mules, but now it is the odorless onion. The home economics department of Purdue university has informed the public how to extract the odor from the onion, for as yet no way of raising the vegetable minus its smell has been devised. The onion, when cooked in rapidly boiling water, loses all its strong, peculiar odor and is delicious, it is said.

TONY HAS CHARMED LIFE.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Jan. 10.—Three year-old Tony Chiachietti has a charmed life. He was rolled fifty feet under the front of a trolley car recently, and the car had to be jacked up to get him out. Tony came through the experience with only a few scratches upon his youthful brow.

I. W. W. TRIAL TO BE HELD OVER

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—When the trial in Federal court here of 46 Industrial Workers of the World and others, charged with conspiracy against the government's war program, was resumed this morning, Attorney Nate Coghlan, representing three of the defendants, declared he would ask upon conclusion of the prosecution's evidence for adjournment until Monday. Coghlan intimated the defense would call many witnesses.

P. H. Johnson, assistant United States district attorney, said the prosecution would place on the stand today a witness to corroborate the story of Elbert Coutts, who told yesterday of his own participation and that of seven defendants in the activities of what he said was known as the "arson squad" of the Industrial Workers.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

ASK PURCHASE TO BAR JAPAN FROM MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — Japanese plans to secure a foothold in Mexico for colonization purposes, and no doubt also for strategic reasons, precipitated the Ashurst and Elston resolutions in Congress directing the President to open negotiations with Mexico for the purchase of Lower California and a part of Sonora, it was learned today.

While Senator Ashurst and Representative Elston prefer not to be quoted on the Japanese scheme, and the State Department, the Japanese Embassy and Mexican Ambassador Bonillas refuse to discuss the matter, it was definitely learned that Japan's activities in Lower California are responsible for the two resolutions.

Senator Ashurst said he is now seeking more information on the matter. Some years ago Japan was detected in a plan to purchase land on Magdalena bay, with the idea, according to charges made at that time in Congress to secure a naval base on the Pacific. The purchase had almost been consummated when the United States notified the Carranza government that it could not allow the transaction. The Carranza government thereupon denied it had any intention of allowing the Japanese to secure a concession on Magdalena bay.

JAPANESE MORE FRANK.

The Japanese were more frank. They let it be known that a private Japanese company was seeking land on the bay for a fishing concession, but Tokyo denied it had any intention of securing a naval base on Mexican territory. The Magdalena scheme thereupon fell through, much to the chagrin of Carranza, who had counted, it was reported, on receiving $100,000,000 cash for the concession.

Within the last year, however, the plan of Japan to secure a base on Mexican soil was revived. This time the Japanese wanted to buy a large tract of land in the upper part of Lower California, near Calexico, ostensibly for use of Japanese settlers.

A private Japanese company conducted the negotiations direct with the owners, who are mostly Americans, but it was not doubted in Washington that the Japanese government was backing the scheme.

STATE DEPARTMENT AGUS.

The State Department got wind of the plan, and, it is said, again notified the Carranza government that no tract of Mexican soil could be either sold or leased to a Japanese company or even to a Japanese individual in Lower California.

Ambassador Bonillas said today:

"I have never heard of that and know nothing of it. I will say, however, that there is not a single Mexican in the whole of Mexico that would agree to the sale of a foot of Mexican territory under the Ashurst-Elston resolutions. It is a waste of time to consider such a proposition."

Japanese Ambassador Viscount Ishii could not be seen, but officials at the embassy expressed ignorance of the new Lower California scheme. They said they were not interested in the Ashurst and Elston resolutions and knew nothing of plans of Japanese colonists to secure a tract of land in Lower California.

Boaz Long, acting chief of the Mexican bureau of the State Department, which bureau deals direct with the Carranza government through Ambassador Fletcher, refused to discuss the matter in any way. He said it was contrary to the policy of the State Department to give out any information on such matters.

Senator Ashurst said he believed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would soon favorably report his resolution. The Elston resolution probably will remain in the House Foreign Affairs Committee without action until decision of the Senate committee.

British Invention Is Mine Protection

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A device which for more than three years helped to protect British warships from German mines has won for its inventor, Lieutenant Charles D. Burney of the British navy, the order of Companion of St. Michael and St. George and a grant of $160,000. The invention is said to have saved the lives of hundreds of sailors and prevented the loss of many warships. It consists of a waterplane shaped like a torpedo, having a pair of large flat fins projecting on either side. It is towed over side by a wire rope in such a way that it runs from the ship's bows outward. The wire rope is intended to pick up the mooring ropes of mines and slide them along until they reach the nose of the device, where a sharp saw is fixed inside a V-shaped slot. The saw cuts through the mooring rope and allows the mine to float free, where it can either be avoided or destroyed.

The invention is known in the service as the "P. V.," or "paravane."

NATIONS' LEAGUE SENTIMENT GROWS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(By British government wireless press.)—There is a steady growth of conviction that a league of nations is practicable.

The Times' correspondent telegraphed from Paris that the question is taking concrete form, and is becoming one of the most prominent in discussions by the statesmen gathered there for the peace conference. It has been emphasized by the arrival of Lord Robert Cecil, who will deal with the matter from the British viewpoint.

The establishment of a national authority, not only for the prevention of war, but for control of certain branches of international intercourse in the interest of peace, has in fact become the object of nearly everyone, it is pointed out in Paris despatches. It is beginning to be realized that perhaps the greatest change the war has wrought is indicated by the insistence with which its aftermath demands the establishment of a new fabric.

Rain Puts End to Cold Wave

Light Downfall Brings Warmth

The "golden rain" last night and another forecasted by G. H. Willson of the weather bureau for today and tomorrow from San Jose and Stockton north to Washington and Oregon, will be of inestimable value to farmers, it is declared.

"This storm is moving slowly and will effectually break up the high pressure area over the Plateau States," Forecaster Willson said, "and soften up the ground for plowing which has been delayed and bring out the early vegetables which have been held back by the hard top soil caused by the cold weather."

Rain was reported at the following points of California this morning: Orland, .18; Oroville, .14; Santa Rosa, .24; Stockton, .08; San Luis Obispo, .08; Eureka, .14; Tamalpais, .02. Oakland showed only a trace.

Precipitation forecasted for the next 24 hours will be intermittent showers, according to Willson.

"Cowless Milk" Fed to L. A.; 2 Accused

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Charged with selling cowless milk made out of milk powder and aqueduct water, S. W. A. Carver, F. H Bothell and A. R. Harrison, officials of one of the largest milk concerns in Southern California, today faced prosecution for alleged violation of the State and city milk laws. The complaints were filed by local health officers.

SIX THOUSAND TROOPS SAIL FOR AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Departure from France of three transports—the Huron, Belgic and Atenas, with about 6000 troops, including ... and wounded, was announced today by the War Department.

The Huron is due at Newport News January 15 with 100 officers and 2000 men from the following units: Third Provisional Battalion, Fifty-sixth Engineers, comprising Companies I, F and K, and medical detachment; Casual Companies No. 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 412, 413 and 414; Field Hospital No. 304 of the 201st sanitary train; second heavy mobile ordnance repair shop, 429 sick and wounded and twenty casual officers.

The Belgic is due at New York January 13 with the First and Second Battalions, Forty-ninth Infantry, field and staff and medical detachments, in all thirty-six officers and 2413 men.

This regular regiment has been assigned to the Eighty-third Division to replace the 332d Infantry, which was detached for service in Italy.

The returning troops of the Forty-ninth are to be scattered among seventeen camps. Also on the Belgic are Casual Companies Nos. 428, 429, 433, 435; chemical warfare service casual company No. 3 and thirty-seven casual officers.

The transport Atenas is due at New York January 19 with a detachment of headquarters troops from the Ninety-second division (colored); a detachment of casual company No. 11 and ninety-five casual officers.

The following organizations have been assigned by General Pershing for early convoy home: Twelfth Balloon Company, 420th and 422d telegraph battalion; ordnance casual company No. 21, transportation corps company No. 53.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The British transport Ulua arrived here today from Brest with 1003 American troops. The units on board consisted of fifteen officers and 421 men of the Sixth Anti-Aircraft Section, nine officers and 266 men of the Twelfth Anti-Aircraft Section, two officers and forty-nine men of Casual 118 men of the 109th Trench Mortar Company No. 822, five officers and Battery and nine casual officers, and nine civilians from the Y. M. C. A. field forces. The 109th Trench Mortar Battery is from the Middle West.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 10.—The transport Madawaska today landed more than 2900 troops from France. Almost every man had been gassed or wounded and many had won decorations or been cited for bravery and gallant conduct. Brigadier-General Walter A. Harris of Macon, Ga., commander of the 174th Infantry Brigade, Eighty-seventh Division, was a passenger.

INDIANS WIN LANDS!

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 10.—Native Puget Sound Indians of Whatcom county obtain $500,000 worth of land as the result of a decision announced here from the circuit court of appeals at San Francisco today. A previous decision, which is now reversed, had given the lands to wealthy white citizens and cancelled the claims of the red men.

JAMES MOONEY GAINS 30 POUNDS

"It's Astonishing How Tanlac Helped Me," Says San Francisco Man.

One of the most noteworthy features, and one that stands out more prominently than any other, perhaps, in connection with the introduction of Tanlac in San Francisco, is the very large number of men and women who have reported an astonishingly rapid increase in weight as a result of its use.

Only a few days ago Mrs. Josephine Campbell, residing at 211 Gough street, reported that she has gained fifteen pounds in just a short time. A few days later Fred W. Sanders, 702 Vallejo street, reported a gain of twenty-four pounds. Shortly afterwards J. A. Greer of 417½ Lyon street came forward with his endorsement of the medicine, stating that he has gained twenty-two pounds. One of the latest to testify is James Mooney, a well-known employee of the paving department of the city, living at 165 Eleventh street, who says:

"I have already gained thirty pounds and am not through taking Tanlac yet. The way it has relieved my suffering and built me up is really astonishing. Three years ago, while working in the southern part of the state, myself and two others had ptomain poisoning and I thought we were all going to die. Well, my stomach has never been right since that time until Tanlac straightened me out. I just suffered night and day with intense pain in the pit of my stomach. I would get up in the mornings with that gaggy, sick feeling and would nearly always vomit up what I had eaten for breakfast. In fact, I couldn't eat anything at any time but what would sour and bloat me up with gas. Meats, bacon, especially, would invariably make me sick. In this condition I continually had a cold, coughed very badly and just felt miserable all the time. My back, over my kidneys, got to hurting me so that I could hardly straighten up when I stooped over. I was also constipated, had raging headaches and lost weight and strength until I could scarcely hold out through the day at my work.

"But that has all been changed. I have taken six bottles of Tanlac now and I have never seen anything like it. When I got my first bottle I weighed only one hundred and forty-five pounds and I now tip the beam at one hundred and seventy-five. I can now eat bacon for breakfast and other meats when I please. In fact, I can eat just anything without the least trouble afterwards and my appetite is so big I can hardly satisfy it. Every pain and bad feeling is gone and I can work eight hours every day without getting tired except in the natural way. It's a pleasure to recommend Tanlac for it certainly is great."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

About Croup.

If your children are subject to croup, or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease, you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study the directions for use, so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorite and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully. For sale by Osgood Bros.' Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

Please, Mother! It's Nasty! Give Me a Candy Cascaret!

TO MOTHERS! Instead of the dreaded dose of castor oil, drops, calomel or pills, give your children Cascarets and save money, worry and trouble. Children love Cascarets because they taste like candy. Nothing else acts so gently but surely on the child's little stomach, liver and bowels.

When one of the kiddies has a white tongue, tainted breath, sour stomach or a cold; when cross, bilious, feverish, constipated, remember, a Cascaret to quickly "work" away the nasty bile, sour fermentations and poisons should always be the first treatment given. Cascarets never gripe the tender bowels, never injure, and never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contain directions for children's dose from one year old and upwards. Also for adults.

RAIL CABINET HEAD IS URGED BY OPERATORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Three well defined proposals for legislation dealing with railroads are now before Congress.

Railroad executives have presented to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee their plan, calling for private ownership and operation under regulation of a secretary of transportation—a new cabinet officer—with statutory guarantee of adequate earnings, rates to be proposed by the roads and subject to review by the secretary of transportation and Interstate Commerce Commission and with the cabinet officer authorized to supervise pooling of equipment, common use of terminals, rerouting of traffic, mergers, construction of new lines and issuance of securities.

Previously the Interstate Commerce Commission had suggested a policy of private ownership and separation under government regulation.

Director-General McAdoo had advocated continuation of government control for five years, and as an alternative, early relinquishment for the roads from federal management.

Shippers and representatives of state railroad commissions are the two principal groups which have not yet presented their views to the Senate committee.

OBJECTIONS RAISE

Among the objections expressed by senators today to the railroads' plan, outlined by T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives, was that if government supervision were vested principally in a secretary of transportation, politics might play a large part in railway policies, and there might be no constant policy continuing through the changes of administrations. These questions were raised by Senators Cummins of Iowa and Smith of South Carolina.

Another objection was that if the railroads are guaranteed by law an adequate return, they should not also have power to determine rates, even though these rates were subject to veto by the secretary of transportation and modification by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Senator Underwood of Alabama suggested that the government should have the authority to dictate details of the rate structure.

Cuyler said:

"The fundamental and essential purpose to be accomplished is to furnish the public with safe, efficient and adequate transportation at the lowest cost consistent with such service, and with due regard to the just interests of the owners and employees and also adequate to the nation's needs even in times of great national emergency or peril.

STATE RATE POWER HIT

"The power of regulation, including all rates, state and interstate, should be exclusively in the hands of the National Government, State commissions should not be interfered with by the Federal act except so far as necessary as to carry out the purposes herein mentioned.

"No new or branch lines of railroad or large and expensive terminals should be constructed unless a certificate of public convenience and necessity is first obtained from the secretary of transportation.

"The carriers should have the power to initiate rates, schedules of which should be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, with the secretary of transportation and with the State Commission in which the rates are applicable."

"The Interstate Commerce Commission should divide the United States into a number of regions, for each of which the President should appoint a regional commission which should be a board of primary jurisdiction, consisting of one member for each state in the region. The regional commissions should have authority to determine all complaints and to report to the Interstate Commerce Commission. If no objection is made to the Interstate Commerce Commission within a limited time and the commission does not overrule the lower tribunal, the orders and findings of the regional commissions should automatically go into effect."

U. S. FUNDING SOUGHT

The railroad executives' plan provides for federal incorporation of interstate carriers, for government supervision of security issues and for funding by the government of railroad indebtedness growing out of federal control during the war.

Cuyler said future wages, in case roads are returned to private control, must depend on trade conditions. He added that the railroads probably could not do business profitably under private control with the present scales of rates, wages and costs of materials.

Senator Townsend suggested that Director-General McAdoo had testified that the government expected to be able to reduce rates, and Senator Kellogg interjected:

"But every act of his indicates he is planning to raise them."

After 9 Years of Internal Baths

Mr. Addison I. Williams writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows:

"Regarding the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' I feel it is one of the indispensable articles and should be in every home. I have not taken $10 worth of medicine since obtaining it—about 9 years ago."

You can be free of biliousness and constipation, with all the ills which they produce, by an occasional internal bath. The "J. B. L. Cascade" administers these scientifically, it being an invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, a specialist on internal bathing.

By the proper application of Nature's cure—warm water—it keeps the lower intestine free of all poisonous waste, and permits every function to work in harmony and without clogging—hence makes one consistently bright, capable and well.

The Owl Drug Co. will be glad to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you, and will also give you free on request an interesting and authoritative book on Internal Bathing, written by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell.

DYNAMITE IS HUSTLED OUT OF HALL

There was consternation, in the office of the property clerk of the Oakland police department in the city hall yesterday afternoon when Inspectors William Emigh and Alex Shefoff deposited on the counter a mysterious looking bundle.

"What's in that package?" asked teh clerk.

"Nine sticks of 60 per cent dynamite," was the answer.

"Well, what do you want me to do with the stuff?" asked the property clerk. "Get it out of here quick, d'ya want to blow up the building?"

The telephone to the street department was kept hot for an hour by the frantic calls of the property clerk to have the dynamite removed to safer quarters.

The dynamite, which Inspector Emigh believes was left in the hills near the Chabot Road by contractors working on the Oakland and Antioch Railway, was reported to the police by William Rhodes, a small boy living at 5661 Oak Grove avenue.

SHIP PIECEWORK MEN ARE LAID OFF

Eighteen gangs were laid off yesterday afternoon at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and a dozen more today following the elimination of the piece-work system at the big shipyard and the placing of the men on a straight eight-hour day and wage.

The action of the management in eliminating the piece-work system is in line with the action taken by the local unions of metal crafts, all of which are on vote record to that effect, and was followed, it is said, by such a general slowing up of the gangs in question as to make their discharge necessary.

Similar action has been taken by the management of the Moore shipyard during the past few days. In one instance 200 men—riveters, holders-on, helpers, etc., were discharged during a single shift, it is said.

The discharge of these men is to be taken up at the meeting tonight of the Shipyard Laborers' Union, certain members of which are included in the riveting gangs, although never on a piece-work basis.

MINISTER PRAISES BRAVE U. S. LADS

"The American soldier had two fears," says Rev. R. V. Hummel, pastor of the Fruitvale Presbyterian Church, who returned on New Year's Day from a year's work on the five battle fronts of the allies. "When he was well he was afraid he would have to stay in France too long. He wanted to get busy and do somthing. When he was sick he was afraid he would not get back before the war finished.

"For the American soldier I have unbounded admiration. I have seen him charge when men were falling all around him and one might think he was on parade.

"It took from six to seven hours for the American and French soldiers to react when news of the signing of the armistice was brought. I was near the Meuse river. There had been rumors that it would soon be signed, but when word came there was no shouting or cheering. There was no indication that an unwonted event had occurred. This was true of the French, also. But that night the darkness was lighted with big bonfires, and the men gathered to cheer and sing and celebrate. Reaction could not come at once."

Hummel went overseas with the Y. M. C. A. and served with the First Division and later the Thirty-second Division from Lorraine to Argonne. Tonight his congregation will give him a reception in the Fruitvale Presbyterian Church, when for the first time he will tell of his experiences on the battle fronts of the world.

PURE BLOOD IS THE BEST NERVE TONIC

There is absolutely no way of reaching the nerves with medicine except through the blood. The nerves receive all of their nourishment and support from the blood which, under healthful conditions, carries the elements needed to rebuild wasted nerve tissue.

Let the blood become deranged and deficient in these elements and the nerves will be badly nourished and headaches, neuralgia, sciatica, functional paralysis and a host of other nervous troubles may result.

In severe nervous disorders building up the blood has accomplished remarkable benefit. Such an instance was the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Stratton of Rockton, Ill. Mrs. Stratton says:

"I had been ailing for some time through overwork and worry, when my right side suddenly became partially paralyzed. I could not move for some weeks without taking hold of a chair. My right leg and arm were affected so that I could not use them. My nerves were in a terrible state. I shook all over and was excited by the least little thing. For weeks I could not sleep. My appetite was poor and I was a nervous wreck.

"My physician said I had partial paralysis caused by a nervous shock. Finally through a friend I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This was after I had been sick over a year and I could not walk. The pills soon helped me and finally entirely restored my health. My daughter also used the pills for a run-down condition of the blood and they helped her at once.

The blood circulates through practically every part of the body and in anemic conditions, when the blood is thin, the nerves are starved, the overworked muscles of the back are under-nourished and the stomach lacks the rich red blood that is required for good digestion.

While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. The booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," will be mailed free on request to any address. Send for a copy.

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or will be sent on receipt of price, fifty cents a box or six boxes for two dollars fifty cents, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. French Soldiers Lead in World's Sacrifice

At the outbreak of the war the population of France was 36 millions and of these 6 millions have been offered on the altar of freedom, thereby leading every other nation. We of America must be very grateful for this and also for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments discovered by the peasants of France, which it is reported has saved many lives in America, prevented thousands of surgical operations and relieved incalculable suffering among its people. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Osgood's Dept. Drug Stores and druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Baby Suffocated When Stove Explodes

ROSEVILLE, Jan. 10.—Alone in the home of his parents here, Edward, 21-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Watson, was suffocated last night when a coal oil stove exploded near his crib.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson left the child in its crib while they stepped over to a neighbor's home. Flames from the exploding stove set the furniture afire, and the smoke caused the suffocation.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known. Slayer Dies Hiding Crime From His Kin

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 10. — Alton Cleveland, who shot and killed May Lewis in Brooklyn last February, was electrocuted in Sing Sing prison last night. Throughout his imprisonment Cleveland had refused to communicate with his two daughters, who are living in the West, and he went to the chair expressing the hope that they would never learn how he died.

BROWN WANTS TO BE CHIEF, SAYS MORSE

Captain Thorvald Brown desires to be chief of Oakland's police department, in the opinion of Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred F. Morse. This ambition, coupled with inspired political motives, is, in the opinion of Commissioner Morse, responsible for the controversy between Chief Henry Nedderman and Captain Brown, considering the quantity and quality of vice that exists in the city.

This expression of opinion by Morse and the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Claude E. Pepper, the salesman, accused of having attempted to intimidate a witness, are the only developments today in the situation that was created by the raid of Captain Brown on the bartenders' club. Captain Brown swore to the warrant for the arrest of Pepper, but it was announced yesterday by Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donahue that Pepper will not be arrested unless he attempts to leave town. Donahue prepared the complaint yesterday.

DIRECTED TO REPORT ON ORDINANCE MATTERS

Discussing the situation as it affects the police department, Commissioner Morse said today:

"I find that under the provisions of the Hart ordinance, a police officer is directed to report direct to the commissioner of public health and safety when the provisions of this ordinance are being violated. This, however, does not prevent the officer from first making a report of such conditions to his immediate superior, and I personally would prefer that this be done. If, however, there is friction between the officer and his superior, it may be just as well to have the charges presented direct.

"I have called on Captain Brown to present his charges in the case against 'Jack' Woolley, and when they are before me in detail I certainly will take prompt and vigorous action, if such action is warranted."

Discussing the motives that prompted Brown to signal Woolley's place out for attack, Commissioner Morse said:

"I am inclined to the opinion that Brown has his eye on the chief's job and of course if he can discredit the chief by reporting direct to me in cases of this kind it is only natural that he would do so.

"I am not in the least interested in the personal phase of the case. What I want to know is whether or not Jack Woolley has been violating the law. If he has I shall take steps to have him cited to appear before the council and have his license revoked. I do not care to take such a step until I see the evidence, and if it is such as to warrant such a move, I shall certainly make the move, and make it quick.

"I do not care to have the Woolley matter aired in the council unless I am positive that Woolley is guilty of the violations hinted at in Brown's letter to Chief Nedderman. I am not going to become a party to political horseplay or to the furthering of any officer's personal ambitions or petty spites. Brown will have to 'show me' in this matter, as I am decidedly suspicious of the whole proceeding.

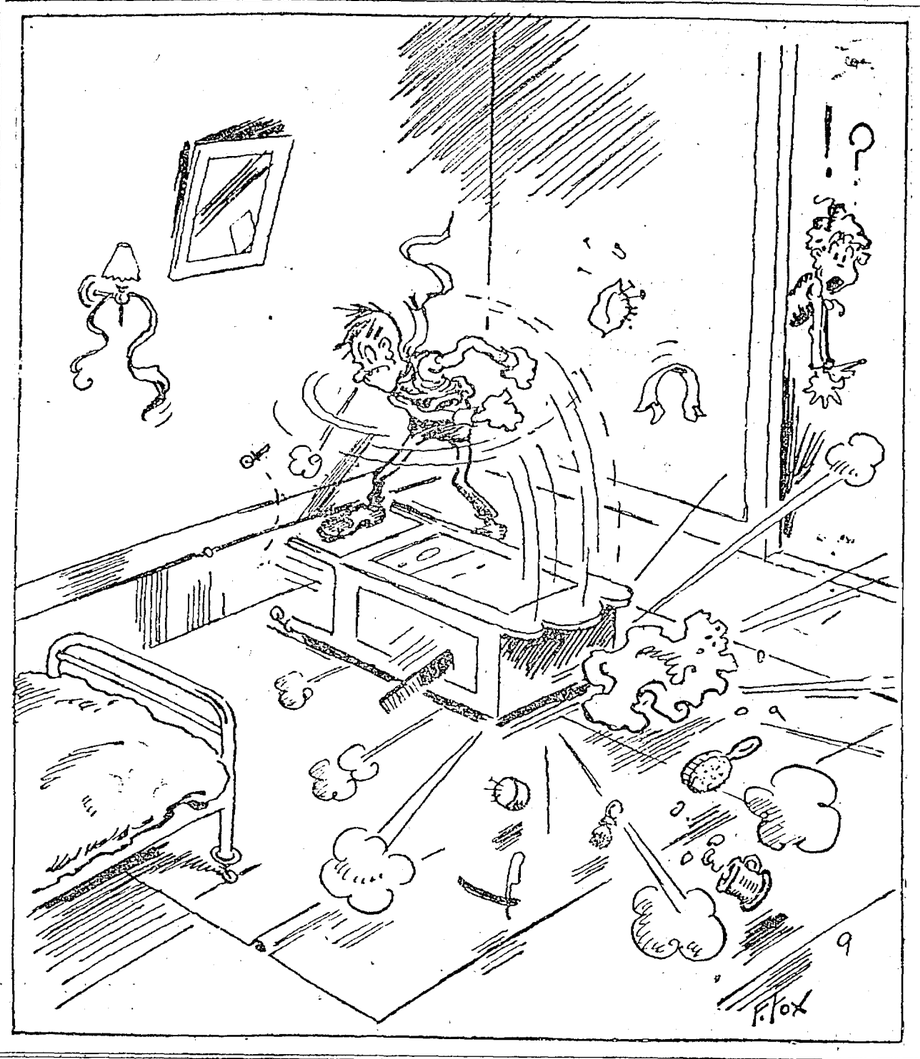

Nedderman today made the following statement:

"I hold no brief for Jack Woolley or am I anxious to protect him from any wrong-doing that he may be guilty of. But I am not going to be made a cat's paw of to jam anyone. If Woolley has violated the law as Brown says he has, I want the facts laid before me, and if Brown tries any more of his going over my head he will hear from me in a way that will make him sit up and take notice. I am tired of his foolishness. He has been a thorn in the side of this department long enough and he has got to tend strictly to police business hereafter or I will know the reason why."

CORPORATIONS PAY 12 PER CENT TAX

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — Corporations will pay income taxes of 12 per cent on their 1918 earnings and 10, instead of 8, per cent thereafter, under agreements reached by Senate and House conferees on the war revenue bill. The conferees adopted the 12 per cent rate for 1918 collection, as proposed in the bill, as it passed the Senate, the House managers agreeing to elimination of the House provision levying an additional 6 per cent on undistributed dividends of corporations. In revising the corporation income tax affecting earning of 1919 and subsequent years, which the Senate had fixed at 8 per cent, the Senate and House managers reached a compromise, making the rate 10 instead of 8 per cent.

It is estimated that under the new rates the corporation tax will yield $750,000,000 this year and $600,000,000 annually thereafter, as against about $894,000,000 estimated from the original House rates.

The conferees also adopted, substantially, the Senate provisions allowing deductions, in calculating corporations' income taxes, of dividends received from other corporations. They also approved the Senate provisions exempting so-called personal service corporations from the corporation tax rates, but added an amendment to deny such exceptions to those corporations where 50 per cent or more of income is derived from profit or commissions on Government contracts.

The Senate plan of providing for payment of income taxes in four installments, instead of three, as proposed by the House bill, also was approved.

It's Proper to Be in Paris Now
Kings, Flags, Bands in Good Taste

By MARGARET ROHE
(Written for The United Press)

Oh Kings and Queens and Cabbages!
These thrilling days in Paris
The last named one, you will agree,
Of these great heads, most rare is.

PARIS, Dec. 23. (By Mail.) — Three kings and two queens is a perfectly good pat hand, but with Paris drawing yet another king or two there's simply no limit to the game, though there may be a riot.

So far the king and queen of Montenegro, the king of England and the king and queen of the Belgians have honored the city with their royal presences and now with the king of Italy and the kings of Serbia and Rumania popping in on us any minute, it's just one darn king after another.

Somehow or other it's just a bit pathetic to me, like falling leaves in autumn, or a sort of final rallying of a fast disappearing species of animals. Take buffaloes for instance, or the almost extinct viennas.

It must make them dizzy to be rankinged so quickly too. Here's the poor old king of Montenegro hardly nicely settled in our midst when, zip, bang! his throne chair's pulled right out from under him.

Just to prove their antithesis to the ephemeral fleetingness of an earthly reign, however, the heavens continue to rain unceasingly and drench kings and ex-kings alike, although they fail to quench Parisian spirits.

Paris indeed is gay in honor of her kingly visitors, in spite of leaden skies. She makes a fete for them no matter what other fate may wait for them. She has donned her gala attire and doffed her sackcloth and ashes, or rather her sacks of sand, and blossomed out in flags and festoons of all the allied colorings.

Her streets, cut mostly on the bias, are very full this season, with bands, brass and otherwise, running all around. Troops of lancers, their pennants, flying, bisect the crowds like insertion run with vari-colored ribbons, and for evening wear Paris actually has gone so far as to take out a few of her jewels again. She has clasped a necklace of electric lights around her throat and fastened a pair of gleaming electric pendants in her ears, but it is for that more-than-king, President Wilson, that she bursts forth in all the flashing glory of her long quenched electric gems. She dons her diadem of highest voltage for him and stretches forth her hands of welcome, aflash with rings of electric bulbs so dazzling bright that Parisians can but blink owlishly after these long years of enforced sombre gloom.

Civilians are all trimmed up with a knot or cocarde of their national colors. French, Belgian, American, British with a sprinkling of Portuguese, Brazilian and Japanese. Even the soldiers parading gallantly by are more covered with ribbons, flowers and cockades than with scars.

All the busy little milliners and dressmakers are madly piling more trimmings on the erstwhile simple frocks and hats of wartime style. Lavish eruptions of beads and spangles are rashly breaking out all over smooth satin and velvet surfaces. Draperies, puffs and even panniers, like excrescences are bulging the straight narrow lines, so long with us, all out of plumb. Hats are daily growing more fine feathers and aigrettes. Frocks, hats and wraps have emerged from their sad brown, black and grey cocoons into gorgeous brilliant tints of vividest dye.

At the restaurants and theatres gleaming arms and shoulders are gradually coming into their own again, or rather out of it, in evening gowns of extreme decollette. Dinner coats among the men, like shy violets, are appearing sparingly, no longer withered beneath the cold contemptuous glances of disapproval that met those brash few that dared appear before the armistice was signed.

Altogether Paris is regaining all her pristine loveliness, sartorially and otherwise. Slowly but surely, day by day, she dolls herself up a little more for each succeeding kingly visitor, and as they pass or fall from royal estate she smiles serenely to herself, confident perhaps that soon she will be the only queen left in Europe. For Paris still, as before and always, reigns secure and undeposed—the eternal Queen of Fashions.

Airplane Is Put to Commercial Use

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 10.—The first real commercial use of airplanes in Texas and Oklahoma was made yesterday by Vice-President John S. The trip, which ordinarily requires three hours by automobile, was made in twenty minutes through the air.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Authority to appoint members of district and local draft boards as "brevet majors" in recognition of their services to the country is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Jones of Washington and referred to the military committee. $11,000,000 U. S. Coin for Norwegian Ships

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Edward N. Hurley and R. B. Stevens of the American Shipping Board, after conferences with representatives of the Norwegian Shipping Association, have agreed that the United States shall immediately pay the Norwegian ship owners $11,000,000, which is the amount the Norwegians actually had invested in contracts, materials and ships when they were requisitioned by the United States at the time she entered the war.

Fuel Regulations Now Thing of the Past

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — All orders and regulations as to fuel conservation, except one relating to natural gas, were withdrawn today by the fuel administration. Regulations as to zones and prices and some others remain in effect, but in accordance with the announced policy of the administration, the question of fuel saving is now once more a matter for individual determination.

BRAIN RUNS RIOT.

PALO ALTO, Jan. 10.—H. F. Pfaff, who lives in a cabin in the hills near Mountain View, recently asked the sheriff of New York county, New York, to find his wife, Mary Allison Pfaff, whom he accused of disappearing with $10,000,000 of his money. Pfaff inclosed a check for $500 as a reward. According to Constable F. L. Peterson, Pfaff never had a wife and is even further away from possession of all that money.

KILLED BY CAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Tony Graves, 30, an employee of the Western Pacific, was killed today when he was struck by an empty freight car being moved onto a siding at Ninth and Bryant streets, while he was crossing the tracks.

PLAN MOVE TO CONSOLIDATE CITY, COUNTY

The first move in the campaign to consolidate the city and county governments of Oakland and Alameda county was made today when Mayor Davie, Commissioners Soderberg, Morse, Jackson and Edwards publicly announced in the council chamber their intention of taking immediate steps for the election of a Board of Freeholders to frame a new charter and provide for the consolidation of the city and county governments.

The statement was made in connection with the reading of a communication from City Attorney H. L. Hagan, in which he stated that the consolidation of the city and county assessor's officers could be effected by a charter amendment.

"The plan would save the taxpayers of the city at least $35,000 a year," said Commissioner Soderberg. "I am heartily in favor of its being taken up at once."

CALLS IT GOOD MOVE.

"That's a good move, and I am for it," said Commissioner W. H. Edwards. "The city of Oakland pays 65 per cent of the total county expenses," said Mayor Davie. "It's about time we took some action on this matter. I wrote a complete report on the subject three years ago, and if the commissioners want to see that report I shall have a copy delivered to each commissioner.

The Mayor then invited the commissioners to study the report and meet with him in a few days to discuss the details of a plan to start a movement to frame a new charter and have Oakland join with the county in a consolidated form of government that would completely eliminate the present commission form.

READY TO CO-OPERATE.

Commissioners Morse and Jackson expressed themselves as ready to co-operate, and a meeting will be held soon to discuss the details.

Mayor Davie and Commissioner Edwards expressed admiration for the present city charter in force in the City of Denver.

The Mayor suggested that the commissioners study this charter, as it is in his opinion the ideal basic law to govern municipalities.

PLANS URGED TO BOOST COMMUNITY

Steps to promote numerous enterprises during the present year were taken at a meeting of the Downtown Property Owners' Association at a meeting last night. Among the subjects that it is proposed to take up and further are:

Consolidation of city and county governments of this community, construction of the proposed new estuary bridge, nomination and election of a board of freeholders of fifteen members to formulate and recommend to the citizens of the county a charter or form of government for the administration of affairs in a consolidated city and county, and which, when adopted, would form a basic law of the united community.

The association also endorses the movement for a new $1,000,000 post-office building in this city. Improvement of various streets by the municipality is also urged. Need of development of a wholesale and jobbing industry is pointed out and support of the movement for further harbor development is urged. A wide range of subjects that will receive the attention of the association has been outlined.

New officers elected were: A. C. Richards, president; Irving C. Lewis and A. M. Sallinger, vice-presidents; Roy R. Reed, treasurer. The following executive committee was also appointed: George P. Baxter, Francis L. Braun, W. L. Chamberlain, Malcolm A. Campbell, Arthur B. Corder, Arthur T. Crellin, George C. Davis, Arthur S. Day, A. R. Derge, John H. Fuller, Max W. Koenig, Harry A. Lafler, James J. McElroy, Dr. W. F. Schwaner, S. E. Biddle, Charles M. Wiggins and Lionel Wachs.

Chairmen of the several committees will be chosen by this committee.

Varrelman Freed of Charge of Evasion

Frederick Varrelman, former Berkeleyan, and a teacher in the Lowell High school, whose temperament he said was rasped by contact with the "uncouth" citizens of Bellingham, Wash, and who was arrested here on a charge of failing to register for the draft, was freed and the charges were dismissed by Federal Judge M. T. Dooling today on the recommendation of Special War Attorney Reams of Washington.

Reams said: "We are not inclined to prosecute Varrelman, as we believe he did not intentionally evade the draft and the several attempts he made to enter non-combattent service would prejudice a jury in his favor." Varrelman was then released.

$5 Day Minimum for State Labor, Is Plan

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Minimum compensation of 65 cents an hour, $5 a day, $1.25 a month or $1500 a year, for all state employees, was provided in a bill introduced today by Assemblyman C. W. Godsil of San Francisco. It was referred to the committee on labor and capital.

The measure excepted from its provisions only persons in the military service or those who receive board or lodging from the state. Both men and women were included.

NEW DEATH IN SAN LEANDRO MURDER CASE

Two men dead, two widows and three small half orphans, is the result of the murderous attack of two Spaniards upon John Gallagher, George H. Skidmore and Joseph Cruz in a saloon in San Leandro on the night of the celebration of the signing of the armistice.

Cruz died last night at the County Hospital, where he has since lingered between life and death with a bullet wound through his lung. He lived at 3484 Harlan street, Oakland, with his wife and one child. He was 38 years old.

Gallagher, who was chemical superintendent of the Trojan Powder Works, was instantly killed, and Skidmore was shot through the leg. He has since recovered.

The three men were in the saloon at near midnight. Five Spaniards who had been doing the round of the saloons, but not drinking, according to report, walked in and silently dispersed themselves about the room. One of the five was later seen to wave his hand toward the door and two or three of the five went out. The other two opened fire, one fro mthe rear and one from near the front of the room. Gallagher fell dead at the first shot. Cruz dropped with a bullet through his lung and Skidmore fell wounded through the knee.

All the gang disappeared and the two men charged with the murder have not been apprehended. They are Tony and Rafael Garcia, brothers, residing in San Leandro, with families. They disappeared from their homes that night and have not since been heard of. There is a reward of $200 for their capture.

According to the three other men in the gang, who were captured and released after being questioned, the shooting was in revenge for what the Spaniards considered a slight upon their language in another saloon, where they were talking Spanish. Some one made the remark that Spanish is not a proper language to use in the United States on the night of victory celebration. It was said that the Garcias resented the remark, became sullen and went looking for the men who offended them, evidently mistaking Gallagher and his party for the ones they sought.

Slow Mail Laid to War Department

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Blame for delays in the transmission of mail to and from soldiers overseas was placed on the war department today by Second Assistant Postmaster-General Praeger in testimony before the Senate postoffice committee. Most of the trouble, he said, was due to "carelessness" on the part of military officials and the war department's failure to cooperate with the postal authorities.

"Thousands and probably millions of letters addressed to soldiers overseas, which have accumulated and have not been delivered, will arrive in New York within a few days," Praeger said, "and will be sent to the dead letter office, where an attempt will be made to return them to the writers."

Praeger said a report from a postoffice inspector in France said that "carloads and carloads" of mail in France have not been delivered. The witness was unable to recall the exact number, but said there were between eight and ten carloads.

Dock and Deck

The new shipyard of the Barnes-Tibbetts company, Alameda, is running in full blast with a number of old and new craft undergoing repairs. Among the vessels there is the schooner Casco, which was built about 40 years ago for a private yacht for Dr. Merritt of Oakland and is 93 tons register. She was sold some time ago and was used by the Stevensen party on their recent adventure. Since then she went into the merchant service and came to Oakland with a cargo of copra. After unloading, she was taken to the shipyard, where her owners are having her overhauled, and she will then be sold. The new drydock at this plant is 340 feet long, and yesterday the shipping board's new steamer Baillett was hauled out. This is the first large craft to use the ways, and everything went in shipshape order. The Baillett has only made one voyage, and arrived here from Honolulu on November 3 with 90,000 cases of canned pineapple. She will be calked. The motor schooner Suzanne is alongside the dock, also being calked. The steamer San Pedro had a new deck raised ten feet from her original deck, which makes her much larger. She has been sold to parties at Manila and will be ready to leave for that port soon. The new steamers Fort Leavenworth and Fort Logan, which were built in a northern port, are receiving their engines and boilers. These craft are built of wood and are owned by the United States Shipping Board. The lighthouse tender Relief is getting her annual overhauling. The new shipyard is not yet completed, as another marine way is being built on the east end of the yard and will soon be ready for service.

ARRIVES AT HILO LEAKING BADLY.

Advices received here today from Hilo state that the steamer Windber has arrived there leaking badly. She has been operating between the Hawaiian ports and the Golden Gate for a few trips by the Matson Navigation Co. Her cargo is being discharged, and she will be placed on the drydock for repairs. The Windber is a wooden steamer built in northern waters about one year ago, and made a few trips to Oakland from Seattle.

The coast guard cutter which has been out searching for the disabled fishing schooner Pilgrim since last Monday, arrived at Marshfield, Oregon, with the craft in tow. She was picked up 20 miles off Coos Bay. Captain A. F. Colver reports that the craft lost her propeller. Besides the skipper there were aboard Chief Engineer William Vincamp, Fred Peterson and Lee Vincamp.

MISSING SCHOONER BELIEVED FOUNDERED.

No trace of the missing fishing schooner Betsy of Santa Barbara has been found, according to fishermen who have returned from those waters. The Betsy has been missing for over a month and it is thought that she may have foundered during the recent storms which prevailed in that vicinity.

Captain T. P. Whitelaw, the wrecker, returned to his home in Oakland yesterday from the wrecked steamer Newburg, which went ashore on October 8 near Bodega bay. The craft is a total loss, but her machinery may be saved. There is nothing left of the hull.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House: Captain C. A. Sanlahl, steamer Arrow; Captain Chas. Borg, steamer Spokane; Captain C. H. Batchelder, steamer Oskawa; Captain J. O. Knight, steamer Rover; Captain C. O. Bergersen, steamer Phoenix.

Japan Mission Head Radios His Gratitude

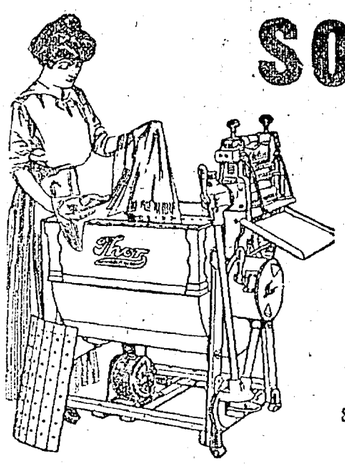

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Baron Makino, head of the Japanese delegation to the peace conference now en route to France aboard the steamer Carmania, sent the following wireless despatch today to Acting Secretary of State Folk, in the name of the mission:

"I am overwhelmed by the great consideration and kindness on the part of the Government and the people of the United States at all points of our journey across the continent and during the period of rest in New York. Permit me to renew assurances of sentiments reciprocating those graciously expressed in your telegraph of farewell and to extend wishes for much happiness for yourself and your countrymen in this and future years."

Clear Nobleman of Suspicion in Fraud

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The names of Lord and Lady Aberdeen, mentioned in connection with an investigation by the district attorney's office of an entertainment given here last May for the benefit of the Child Welfare Association of England and Ireland, have been removed by District Attorney Swann, it was announced today, from a list of persons suspected of wrongly collecting funds for alleged war charities.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. "Gee-Whiz! How it Hurts — The Pain in My Foot!

Sometimes it is in my arm. Merciful Heaven, how it hurts my back in the morning!" It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is "keep the kidneys in good order." "Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric." This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form, and will dissolve uric acid as hot coffee dissolves sugar.

You know that before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test your water, and report whether you are a good risk. You should send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late. Get Anuric (anti-uric), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. You will feel full of vim, vigor and vitality, instead of tired, dragged-out and blue. Anuric is many times more potent than lithia, dissolves and carries away uric acid and other poisons from the system. Ask your nearest druggist for Anuric—in tablet form.

Every man or woman should be careful that the liver is active and the poisons are not allowed to clog the system—get rid of these poisons by taking a vegetable laxative occasionally—such as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do not gripe and will not harm the most delicate system.

BLOOMS ARE TO BE RAINED ON GRIZZLIES

Showers of flower petals upon the California "Grizzlies" when they come home from "over there" next week is the feature Oakland is planning as a welcome to the boys of the 143rd Regiment. The Native Daughters of the Golden West, headed by Mrs. Ada Mosher, will throw the petals, which will be tissue paper replicas of the petals of the poppy, California's state flower.

The Oakland celebration to the "Grizzlies" is headed by Charles H. J. Truman and a committee of seven members of the Merchants' Exchange. The others are: Harry G. Williams, W. E. Gibson, J. J. Mullarkey, I. Spiro, J. C. Downey and W. A. Spears.

A meeting of the committee has been called for tonight by Chairman Truman, to be held in the headquarters of the Merchants' Exchange. The committee is co-operating with Paul T. Carroll, chairman of the San Francisco committee to welcome back the members of the "Grizzlies."

Ask The Tribune

Editor Ask the TRIBUNE Department: Will you kindly, through The TRIBUNE, answer whether, after annexing the various municipalities now constituting Greater New York, New York or London has the largest population?—A Subscriber.

No government census has been taken since 1910, but the census taken in 1915 by the police department of New York gives 5,253,385. This includes all boroughs. In the same year there was taken the New York State census, which gave New York City a population of 5,006,484, and fixed the estimated population of Greater New York, including Westchester and New Jersey suburbs, at 7,500,000. The population of registration London in 1911 (last census) was fixed at 4,522,964, and at 7,252,963 for the metropolitan and police districts combined. It is probable that the war has lessened the population of London by close to 1,000,000.

Editor Ask the TRIBUNE Department: Please inform me, through The TRIBUNE, the date on which Theodore Durant killed Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams; also the date on which Durant was hanged.—A. R.

According to the record in the case, Theodore Durant killed Blanche Lamont in the Emanuel Baptist church, San Francisco, April 3, 1895. He killed Minnie Williams in the same church April 12, 1895. He was tried for the Lamont murder November 1, 1895, and was sentenced to be hanged December 6, 1895. He appealed and sentence was affirmed by the State Supreme Court, April 3, 1897. He was resentenced April 10, 1897, and was hanged January 7, 1898, in San Quentin penitentiary.

MRS. MORGAN IS GRANTED DIVORCE

SAN JOSE, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Mabel G. Morgan, prominent in San José and on the peninsula, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the superior court when her husband, Ralph Earl Morgan, salesman for Baker & Hamilton in San Francisco, admitted that he had treated her roughly. Mrs. Morgan sued on the ground of cruelty, alleging that her husband had called her names and that he had thrown her out of their beautiful home in fashionable Hanchett park.

Morgan had filed a cross complaint charging his wife with cruelty, alleging that Mrs. Morgan neglected her home, that she had too many male admirers and that she had a vicious tongue. He alleged that some of these admirers called at his home against his wishes.

Mrs. Morgan was prominent in the social life of Camp Fremont, planning many entertainments for the soldiers.

WIFE NO SHARER IN STOLEN COIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Officials of the California Redwood Association are wondering what connection there is between the alleged short accounts of their secretary and manager, Clayton W. McCann, and the allegations in Mrs. McCann's complaint for divorce that he "has a way of contracting debts which he cannot pay out of his salary of $250." The divorce complaint also charged that McCann "had a way" of spending holidays and the like with other women.

When the auditor of the company began an investigation of the books this week at 216 Pine street, McCann disappeared. It is said that he left the office at noon Tuesday and never returned. Yesterday the company caused a warrant to issue for his arrest on a technical charge of raising an employee's voucher from $25 to $125. It is intimated that the amount of the shortage may reach $10,000. McCann has been with the company a year and a half.

Mrs. McCann, who lives at 1425 Jackson street, secured an interlocutory decree of divorce November 22, last year.

Power Shortage Is No Longer Menace

That 60,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity will be carried annually to the cities on San Francisco bay by a long-distance connection with the electric energy from the California-Oregon border is the belief expressed by the State Railroad Commission. It is further announced that in all probability the danger of power shortage in this vicinity during the dry months will be eliminated.

First delivery of power from this source was begun Wednesday evening, when the new line, nearly 200 miles in length, was opened. About 6000 kilowatts were delivered to the Northern California Company, which used some of its own system and turned over 3000 or 4000 kilowatts to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

War Camp Service Will Share in Hut

It will be the intention of this service to make available all information in regard to the various agencies which have to do with the work of rehabilitation in the community.

The bureau will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily and its service will be at the disposal of the public free of charge.

Boys' Arrest Follows Discovery of Girls

Further development in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Pappas, wife of an Oakland restaurant employee, 17, and Mamie Silvia, 16, also of Oakland, who were arrested in San Francisco by Policewoman Katherine Eisenhart, was the arrest this morning of Lawrence Martin, 18, and Thomas Brooks, 17, at 419 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, charged with contributing to the delinquency of the two girls. When the youths were arrested by Detectives O'Connell and Ripley this morning, they admitted knowing the girls but denied any offense and named members of the 41st Infantry, stationed at the Presidio. They are being held at the Juvenile Detention Home pending a hearing before the juvenile court.

BANK COLLECTOR ALLEGED THIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10. — United States Attorney Benjamin F. Geis will today appear before the Federal Grand Jury with evidence supporting a charge of false entries and embezzlement against E. J. Hansen, trusted employee of the Merchants' National Bank, who, it is alleged, is responsible for a shortage running up to $8000.

A complaint was sworn to yesterday by Geis, charging Hansen with the alleged peculations. Hansen is city collector for the bank. He is now at the Franklin Hospital with the influenza, and his arrest will be made immediately upon his recovery.

The beginning of the irregularities with which he is charged dates back to August 21, 1917, it is said. Hansen, according to Ges, failed to turn in money he collected. Geis says he would give receipts for checks to be delivered to firms, claiming that they wished to check them before turning over the money. Later, it is said, he would collect on other checks, pay the money for the first collection and place receipts with the cashier for the last collection.

Two Women Are Robbed of Money

Miss Beatrice Hagan, 826 Center street, reported to the police today that a burglar entered her room at 2:30 o'clock this morning and stole a black purse containing $10. Mrs. Henry Thompson, 463 Eighth street, reported that between $33 and $40 was stolen from a cash drawer in her restaurant by sneak thieves who effected an entrance through a rear window.

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW IT THROUGH HAIR

It Becomes Beautifully Soft, Wavy, Abundant and Glossy at Once

Save Your Hair! All Dandruff Goes and Hair Stops Coming Out

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair! Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best money you ever spent.—Advertisement.

The Joy of Motherhood Told

Women Tell How They Made Event One of Great Happiness.

In every part of the land there are women who tell how, through the application of Mother's Friend, they entirely avoided the suffering usually incident to motherhood. They relate in no uncertain terms how from its use the days were made bright and cheerful and the nights calm and restful, how the crisis was passed without the usual suffering experienced when nature is unaided, and how they preserved their health and strength to devote it to the rearing of their children and to the things life holds for them.

Mother's Friend is a most penetrating remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers from a formula of a noted physician. Strain upon the ligaments is avoided, and instead of a period of discomfort and constant dread it is a season of calm repose. The hours at the crisis are less, and Mother's Friend enables the mother to retain her natural grace, and her skin is not cracked and does not become hard or disfigured.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. L, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today.—Advertisement.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Secret service operatives have been after Jay, as have the police of various cities where he cashed worthless checks. It is probable he will be taken to Washington for trial on federal charges.

THE GERMAN SITUATION.

Providing the reports of conditions in Berlin and other German cities are not exaggerated, and unless tranquility is speedily established, it may be necessary for the Allied armies to break their camps on the Rhine and move straight across Germany to the frontier of the Polish republic. Each day's developments portends the necessity for this action.

It will be impossible to negotiate a peace with Germany while present conditions prevail, or to remove the Anglo-Franco-American armies from the Rhine. Orderly, stable government in Germany must be a fact preceding a peace settlement. If Ally invasion is the quickest way to such a regime it should be chosen without hesitation.

Meanwhile it is not surprising that the date of opening negotiations at Versailles is delayed from time to time. There are forces in Germany capable of restoring order if they choose to do so. If the junkerists and kaiser-adherents are letting the radicals and the liberals fight among themselves in the hope that an opportunity to restore the old order will appear they should be stopped now by the Ally armies.

Delay in concluding the peace settlement is disturbing and dangerous.

MILITARY COURTS.

What the American soldier craves more than anything else is consideration as a man from his fellow man. A soldier who would welcome mollycoddling and sentimental effusions would not be a soldier. He could not stand the hard tests men in uniform must endure in war service.

Senator Chamberlain and others have criticised the military court system of the army and some of the harsh verdicts. They shed figurative tears and cry out against the "injustice" of an "old" system. They refer to soldiers punished for crime as "boys" who did not know what they did.

Now there have been imposed many sentences which seem unduly harsh to those who favor a small fine for the miscreant who kills or mangles a pedestrian with an automobile and then runs away without rendering aid to his victim. But considered in the light of the soldier's great responsibility in war time and the necessity for protecting the 999 good soldiers from the misdeeds of the one failure, severe and prompt punishment was necessary. What would have been the feeling of the patriotic men who went to France to venture their lives if the military courts at home had consistently let off slackers who absented themselves without leave with a thirty-day prison sentence!

Again a few sentences have been imposed that were not merited. In nearly all of these the commanding officer or the officer filing the information will be found to blame. He was either dishonest or possessed of a perverted idea as to his duties and the requirements of discipline. In securing officers for an army of 4,000,000 men, with only a few months allowed for testing and selection, it was inevitable that some misfits should find their way into the service. But there were not many real miscarriages of justice, not enough to justify condemnation of the whole system of army administration.

Neither is the military court system to be condemned merely because it has been established a long time. The army regulations have been amended several times since the beginning of the Republic. They were overhauled in 1915. Each revision was dictated by the latest experience and requirements. The regulations are approved by Congress and thus become of the same force as a federal statute. The methods of trial insure the protection of the rights of the accused without clogging the procedure with the technical tricks of the civilian lawyer.

A campaign has already been started to obtain leniency for the slackers, objectors and seditionists that have been sent to prison for their crimes. One petition asking for the blanket pardoning of all these offenders has already been presented to the Secretary of War. It is a logical first maneuver to attack the methods by which the guilty were brought to punishment. It is desired that the public first believe that all the sentences were unjustly imposed.

The offenders, however, were not "boys." They were men who thought it would be the easier way to spend a year or two in prison than to fight. When it was observed that the punishment was from ten to thirty years this reasoning was less in evidence. The honest soldier who overstays his leave, for reasons always well known to himself, does not complain of his fate. He knows in advance what his medicine will be and is willing to take it.

LEGISLATING FOR BUTTER.

One of the fundamental causes of bad legislation is to be observed in the proposal of representatives of the dairying interests of California of a law prohibiting the State government from including a substitute for butter in the food provided inmates of State institutions. Here is selfishness boiled down to its very essence, an attempt at vicious class legislation that fails utterly to recognize that there is another interest on earth beside the interest to be benefited by the "eat our butter only" bill.

It is inconceivable that even the legislature will approve this effort, but if it should get through this body the courts certainly will kill it. It is palpably one of those legislative attempts expressly forbidden by the federal Constitution. But it is not sufficient that the bill to force the State to buy the dairymen's butter for its wards be rejected. Something ought to be done to give the dairyman a vision beyond his milk pail.

Butter substitutes made of vegetable oils are said to be wholesome, nutritious and healthful. They are cheaper than butter fat and thus are a boon to that considerable portion of the people that cannot afford to pay the price arbitrarily fixed by the butter exchanges for the genuine article. There are also producing interests in California other than the dairymen. Cotton growing is a rapidly expanding and promising industry. Cotton seed oil for butter substitute may be a valuable article of the State's soil products.

It is not a good thing for the State, nor the industry as a whole, for one element of industry to try to kill another element. Such tactics in business are comparable to the crime of murder in personal relations. The underlying motive is the same—to get an unwelcome associate out of the way.

GENERAL BELL.

Major General J. Franklin Bell, who died yesterday in New York, was one of the most distinguished officers of the American army. His forty years of continuous service had won notable recognition both from the government and the people. His Indian campaigns and his fighting in Cuba and the Philippines during the Spanish-American war stamped him as a leader and commander of unusual ability.

When the present war started and it became necessary to send an expeditionary army to Europe, General Bell was seriously considered as its commander-in-chief. He, like Pershing, had "won his spurs" and had qualified for the important position. Some politicians at the time made a great deal of noise about Major General Leonard Wood, but army men were anxious that the choice be either Bell or Pershing. By reason of his Mexican experience and the fact that the divisions he had commanded in Mexico were to be the first in France, a duty for which they were thoroughly prepared, Pershing was selected.

But General Bell performed important duties at home. He prepared division after division for overseas service, sending them across to Pershing as fit for active duty as it was possible to make them on this side. He performed an important and essential part in winning the victory and the country regrets his sudden and untimely end.

A VICTORY FOR A FREE PRESS.

Congratulations are due to the Santa Fe New Mexican and its editor, E. Dana Johnson, for successful resistance to a menacing invasion of the freedom of newspaper publication. The Supreme Court of New Mexico has just reversed a decision by which District Judge Merritt C. Mechem found the paper in contempt and sentenced its editor to thirty days in jail for publishing an account of something which he had done as a private individual. The New Mexican had been attacking a group of politicians to which the Judge was alleged to belong. Judge Mechem made a statement in affidavit form which prevented the disbarment of a lawyer also connected with the political faction under attack, and claimed that publication of an account of this episode from the newspaper's point of view impaired his ability to administer justice in certain cases then pending.

The danger to the rights of a free press lay in Judge Mechem's extension of the scope of the notion of pendency. There was no case then before him in which his ability to administer justice might have been impaired by the publication of the article. But several months before indictments for criminal libel had been found on the ground of charges which were part of the same campaign against this political faction. These cases had not been tried; so far as could be seen they never would be brought to trial; but the judges set them up as justification for punishing the editor for contempt instead of taking his chances in a libel suit before some other judge, as any private citizen would have had to do.

If this ruling had been allowed to stand the mere filing of suits which could be criminally delayed would be sufficient to stop any newspaper attack on political corruption. No reference to the general issues of the campaign could be made lest it prejudice the course of justice in these actions. The dismissal of the information for contempt by the Supreme Court, and the discharge of the man whom Judge Mechem sent to jail, would appear to dispose of this very curious theory which would afford permanent protection to any political faction which happened to send one of its friends to the bench. And, with the observation that "under our theory of government the right of freedom of speech and of the press are essential to public welfare," the court denies that a judge may use his authority in contempt to redress his private grievances or soothe his wounded personal feelings.—New York Times.

NOTES and COMMENT

The chances of a new constitution for California seem good. The process of patching does not produce an organism that is adequate. This is being more thoroughly realized as proposals are now going forward to mend the many weak places. A new constitution that would leave out a whole lot of things would be popular.

* * *

The war strain is evident by the dropping off of some who had prominent parts in the struggle. Taps have sounded for General Bell. He was not on the firing line, but he performed a soldier's full part through all the stress.

* * *

Fantastic bills are being introduced or proposed. That in the interest of dairymen, debarring the state from feeding its wards on oleomargarine, compelling them to have nothing but butter on the table, for instance. It wouldn't be a far cry from this to making it a misdemeanor for families to be caught with a square of the substitute in the ice box.

* * *

The bifurcated legislative session is already on the carpet, so to speak. It required a constitutional amendment to produce it and now another is proposed to eliminate it. Like some other things which were supposed to be good because they were novel, the bifurcated session has been found to be simply an irritation.

Herman Scheffauer may have been proceeding with the idea that a poet is different in the matter of loyalty to his country—that poetic license applies in such matters. In times of war, however, everybody has to conform, whether he is able to make his lines rhyme or not.

We are editorially advised that what is needed between America and Mexico is more friendliness. If we would be more friendly the border difficulties would disappear. The border difficulties are largely Villa, and the scheme would necessitate catching him and holding him fast while friendliness was being administered. The plan presents difficulties.

Cabinets are coming into favor in government. The San Francisco harbor board is to have one, composed of leading importers, exporters and men in other lines of business in the city. Sounds sensible, and is certainly different as to harbor control than it has been at times.

The most undaunted heroes are coming to be moving picture men. Where active danger lurks there they are to be found with their cameras. While the Germans fought in the streets of Berlin they set up their tripods there, unmindful of the shots and missiles that were hurtling about. The movie man braves death in any shape to get a picture of it.

Victor Berger hasn't anything on Joshua Sykes. Both were found guilty yesterday and both shared in a common emotion. They were surprised. Their reliance on the easy American way of looking at things was rather sadly jolted.

Lenine and Trotzky have been hunting in pairs, killing right and left, leaving a trail of blood, and now Trotzky has caused the arrest of Lenine and the dictatorship is single instead of dual. A somewhat similar incident characterized the French revolution.

Philadelphia is worked overtime by humorists on a charge of being slow, but it is too rapid for Secretary Daniels. He has issued a warning to the municipal authorities there to put the soft pedal on vice or "steps will be taken by the federal government to give protection to thousands of the young men in uniform who must either visit Philadelphia or be denied the liberty which ought to be given them." We can't always tell just how it is with a city from its demureness.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Compulsory education to Americanize minors in California who are unable to speak and write the English language is urged by the special committee of school reorganization. This special committee included representatives from the University of California, Stanford university, two normal schools presidents, two high school and two elementary school principals and the three state commissioners of education.—Sacramento Union.

According to the report of the State Fish and Game commission about 12,000 deer were killed in California in 1918. The expert of the commission says, "The wisdom of passing a spiked buck law is becoming more apparent. An increase in the number of deer and a reduced number of accidents are direct results of this law."—Cloverdale Reveille.

The Sacramento Union hopes that Franklin K. Lane will be reappointed secretary of the interior by Pershing, Leonard Wood, Hoover, or whatever big man may be elected President by the Republicans next year. If it were a New York, Philadelphia or Washington paper that ventured such speculative enumeration of possible successors to Mr. Wilson the name of Hiram Johnson would be included in the list. But Hiram happens to have been born in Sacramento, which perhaps explains the omission.—Chico Enterprise.

Governor Cantu's celebration to open the new national highway connecting Ensenada and Mexicali, which was to have been held Sunday, January 5, has been postponed until Sunday, the 12th, according to Billy Silver. Mr. Silver has charge of the American features of the celebration, and in the name of Governor Cantu has invited all the public officials of Holtville to be present.—

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—For the first time since December 20 the United States Weather Bureau here today announced an absence of freezing temperature in all citrus districts of Southern California. Continued investigation by horticulturists indicated, it was said at the office of one of the large citrus associations here, that the damage from the recent frosts will be much less than was first feared. Shipments of citrus fruits are to be resumed next week, it was announced.

GERMAN MONUMENT TO DRAKE.

Offenburg, in Germany, near the edge of the Black Forest, possesses a statue of Sir Francis Drake. Not, however, as the circumnavigator of the globe, not as the smasher of the Spanish Armada, not as the hero who went on playing bowls when the enemy was in sight, or as the typical Englishman, knighted on board his ship by Queen Elizabeth. To Offenburg Drake is the "discoverer of the potato." Some people think Raleigh discovered Germany's staple food; but Offenburg says Drake. The effigy of Drake seems to flourish a map of South America with one hand and in the other he holds a potato plant.—Detroit News.

LLOYD GEORGE ON PLOTTERS.

In a recent statement of his policies, Premier Lloyd George declared: "After what has happened in the last four or five years it is impossible to entertain in our midst a population of which a considerable portion abused our hospitality. This has been demonstrated by evidence impossible to ignore. They spied and plotted and assisted Germany in forming plans for the destruction of a country which offered them hospitality. They thus have forfeited any claim to remain."

"TOLUOL" WON THE WAR, TOO.

It is now permissible to lift the veil of secrecy in regard to the highly important work which has been carried out by the "Shell" group in connection with the supply of toluol to the allied governments, and to give publicity to a few facts which, during the course of the European war have been kept particularly secret, according to the Petroleum Review of London.

"That toluol exists in various petroleums has been known for some years," the Review continues, "but we are safe in saying that there is no known petroleum from which so large a percentage of toluol can be removed as from the heavy Borneo petroleums. The explosives department, under Lord Moulton, had been searching in vain for toluol in large and practically unlimited quantities, yet unable to find it, and as a consequence the output of high explosives had obviously been restricted. Then the offer of the 'Shell' was eagerly accepted, and, to cut a long story short, arrangements were forthwith made whereby this country received, we believe, considerably over one-half of the total quantities available, the rest going to our allies. The output of high explosives was immediately increased."

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Why Dieting Is Imperative in Treatment of Diabetes

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

The continuous loss of sugar from the muscles, liver and other sugar granaries of man's anatomy is called diabetes. This is a malady more often encountered in families, tribes and races than in particular individuals. It is not infectious, contagious, a germ or a congenital disease. It is however, a defective tissue or nutritive disorder, sometimes inherited.

One of the fundamental essentials of treatment for diabetes is temperance in food and drink. You must abstain from many of the pleasures and the viands you like best that you may enjoy longer life and better health.

One of the wise doctors of this country, who first laid unusually strong emphasis upon this, was Dr. Allen, who introduced a form of starvation to check the sugar loss of the diabetic. Dr. Joslin in his new book has added to the practical value of this method. He considers diabetes as mild, moderately bad and severe, and his plan to rid such persons of the sugar found in the excreted kidney fluids is to have them fast only after they have been strengthened by other treatment.

Vegetables such as lettuce, spinach, cress, asparagus tips should be in the diet, as well as such fruit as oranges.

Chronic, obese or complicated conditions are first dealt with by omission from the diet of such things as salads, soups, coffee, chocolate, nuts and cuts of meat which contain oil or fat. Then the meats, fish, eggs, cheese, milk and albuminous foods are gradually cut out, and after two days are omitted completely.

Finally the quantity of sweets, sugars and starches is halved daily until only five ounces are eaten each day. This preparatory treatment prevents coma, acidosis and other dangers of fast.

Unless he is sugar free before that time the diabetic is to fast four days. During this period he is allowed only tea, oil-free coffee, whey, broths that are clear and a little sour wine.

If sugar still persists at the end of the fourth day, the treatment is repeated before a two-day fast is tried.

Bread substitutes for diabetes or obesity are better not given. The discipline of living as many days as possible without bread or its substitutes makes the victim forget the taste and the habit of bread-eating.

Bread made of bran purchased at a feed store is preferable. The starch can be washed out of it with water by tying the bran in cheesecloth under a faucet. It takes an hour to wash it clear.

A flour made of bran, 960 grains or six tablespoonfuls; salt, one-fourth tea-spoonful; powdered agar, 90 grains, and cold water, one-half glass, makes good biscuits. The hot agar and water are first boiled a minute and with the salt are added to the washed bran, which is then moulded into cakes and placed on oiled paper and allowed to stand half an hour. When firm and cool the cakes are placed in a pan and are baked in a moderate oven for 30 or 40 minutes.

LEGISLATOR OPENS FIRE ON STATE MARKET DIRECTOR

ABOLITION OF OFFICE IS PROPOSED

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Abolition of the office of State Market Director by the Legislature was proposed in a bill introduced in the Assembly today by Edwin Baker of Los Angeles. Baker said later the aims for which the office had been created four years ago had not been realized in any degree; that the middleman was just as strong as ever; that the producer had not been aided and that the high cost of living had not been reduced through the efforts of the director.

Appointment of a committee on governmental efficiency and economy, to which measures relating to the administration's plan for readjustment of State departments are to be referred, was recommended by the Assembly committee on rules today. The committee also recommended appointment of a committee on motor vehicles.

A constitutional amendment to compel State commissions and boards to turn moneys they collect into the State treasury was proposed by Harry Poisley, assemblyman from Red Bluff.

He also introduced a bill providing that foreclosure on property of settlers in land projects may not deprive them of their equities.

A bill to prevent corporations and associations from practicing law was offered by Henry E. Carter, Los Angeles assemblyman.

J. M. Argabrite, assemblyman from San Buenaventura, offered a proposed constitutional amendment to replace a bill, declared unconstitutional, preventing double taxation of corporations.

A bill to turn over the waterfront at Monterey to that city was introduced by Assemblyman W. J. Martin of Salinas.

Nevada Man Wins D. S. C. for Bravery

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — The commander in chief, in the name of the President, has awarded the distinguished Service Cross to the following named officer for the acts of extraordinary heroism described after his name:

Lieutenant-Colonel Lowe A. McClure, 61st Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action in the Bois-de-Fultiere, France, October 14, 1918, and during the Meuse offensive, November 5, 1918. Lieutenant-Colonel McClure, commanding the 3d Battalion, organized his companies and directed their disposition while constantly under fire. At the crossing of the Meuse, November 5, he organized his battalion for the attack on Hill 292, and under direct enemy fire made a reconnaissance which enabled him to capture Hill 232, with more than 100 prisoners and fifty machine guns, without casualty. Home address, B. H. McClure, father, Carson City, Nev.

British Steamer Is Sunk; Crew Is Lost

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British steamer Northumbria struck a mine off Middlesborough Thursday and it is believed most of the crew was lost. A boat with two survivors and eight dead has been washed ashore at Newton Abbott. Four boats which left the ship with survivors are missing.

The steamship Northumbria was of 4215 tons and was owned in Glasgow. She was 360 feet long and was built in 1906.

Give Directions For Ax-Wielding Taxpayers' Association Asks Reforms

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Advancing the claim that its proposed cut in expenses "will not eliminate the performance of a single service now rendered by the state," the Taxpayers' Association of California has filed with the Governor's committee on efficiency and economy full directions for wielding the axe on the capital's salary roll.

Of its scheme the association says:

"The eliminations will be in the matters of duplication, overlapping and conflicts. The plan is built upon the principle of an individual transfer of each of the hundreds of functions now performed by the state. The transfers are made in accordance with a classification of functions. The reorganization proposed can be effected without constitutional amendment."

A cursory reading of the plan proposed shows some of the heads that it is intended to lop off by a general system of consolidation of functions and elimination of boards and commissions. Only twelve departments are to remain in the state government.

The Civil Service Commission, for instance, is to go into the finance division, consisting of the controller, treasurer, State Board of Equalization and two members to be appointed by the Governor. This division also absorbs the Board of Control, the State Printer and the Departments of Commerce and Labor and Public Accounting.

Five members of a department appointed by the Governor take over all duties of the commissioner of corporations, the building and loan commissioner, the insurance commissioner, the bank superintendent, the Railroad Commission, the Industrial Act Commission, the labor commissioner, the boards to enforce labor laws, the harbor, pilot and port warden commissioners, and the market director.

CUTS OFF LAWYERS

The attorney-general is to do all the law work for all the departments, cutting off all the lawyers for boards, officials and commissions, and eliminating their salaries. The legislative counsel bureau is also merged in this division.

Three appointees of the Governor are to take on all the work of sanitation and hygiene—Board of Health, licensing physician, nurses, embalmers, dentists, opticians; have charge of food, drug and fertilizers inspection; regulation of dairies, slaughter houses and cold storage warehouses; regulation of pharmacists; enforce all housing laws, and take over the duties of the Department of Sanitary Engineering and the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

A single appointee of the Governor is to have in hand all matters of charities and welfare, managing the Veterans' Home and the Women's Relief Corps Home; supervising all orphan and foundling asylums; administering funds for state aid; assisting paroled prisoners; providing recreational centers for immigrants and investigating philanthropical societies for aiding immigrants.

HANDLE ALL SCHOOLS

Three appointed members are to manage the Preston and Whittier Schools and the California School for Girls; have charge of all pardons and paroles, take over the duties of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, and after a constitutional amendment and abolished the Board of Prison Directors, manage the state prisons.

One single head, appointed by the Governor, is to manage all State hospitals and asylums, the Pacific colony, the adult blind home and the institution for the deaf and dumb and blind.

The state engineer is to have charge of all public work in rivers and harbors and on highways, water and land projects and public buildings, plan the State Capitol and control all dams.

The surveyor-general and four members to be appointed by the Governor are to have charge of all natural resources, water, power, irrigation and reclamation, land settlement, agriculture, horticulture, viticulture, the animal industry and mining.

Three appointive officials are to make up the conservation division and control all forestry, fish and game and care for the Capitol, Colton Hall and all memorial buildings and statues.

All defense and the care of armies is to be centered in the Adjutant-General.

The superintendent of public instruction and four appointed members of the Board of Education are to control and manage the State library and historical departments as well as all and four appointed members of the Board of Education are to control and manage the State library and historical departments as well as all education except the University of California, which is to continue under the Board of Regents.

NO INCREASE IN FORCES IN NAVY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A temporary naval force of 225,000 enlisted men for the year, beginning next July, was decided on today by the House naval sub-committee, in beginning the work of framing the naval appropriation bill. This force is 25,000 less than was recommended by Secretary Daniels.

No provision will be made in the bill for increasing the permanent strength of the navy, now fixed at 142,000 men. This was in accord with Secretary Daniels' recommendations that permanent increase should await a study of ship complements.

The committee's plans contemplate having the permanent force operate strictly naval craft, the use of 20,000 men of the temporary force for the army transport service, and manning shipping board vessels with the remainder of the temporary strength.

Committee members regard a complement of 1000 men, exclusive of officers, as sufficient for the dreadnaughts and battle cruisers for peace time, a reduction from the war basis of 1200 to 1400 men. They also discussed placing in reserve a part of the destroyers and 110-foot submarines, now in the navy, as also some Eagle patrol boats.

Pure Food Laws in State Are Enforced

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10. — Of the 1327 cases of alleged violation of state pure food laws referred to the bureau of foods and drugs during the past two years convictions were obtained in 730 cases, 200 are awaiting trial and in others persons accused were allowed to go with reprimands.

This statement was made in the report of E. J. Lea, director of the bureau, which is included in the biennial report of the California health department. Lea praised the press for giving space to pure food and drugs publicity and particularly mentioned the California Wholesale Grocers' Association, the California Retail Grocers' Association and the California Master Bakers' Association as "standing for pure and wholesome products."

ADVISE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 10.—Resolutions urging the State to "encourage, promote and provide for the public ownership and operation of all public utilities, industry, water power and coal mines" were adopted by the Washington State Construction Congress before it adjourned here.

HURLEY TAKES FICKERT CASE TO GOVERNOR

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Edgar S. Hurley of Oakland, author of the resolution demanding an investigation of the conduct in office of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert of the charges growing out of the Mooney case, today called on Governor Stephens to discuss the resolution and ascertain the administration's attitude toward the investigation.

After a brief interview, Hurley stated he had arranged to go into the merits of the resolution at length with the governor next week, after the pending issue had been disposed of. Among the matters of which he desires to seek information from the Governor, Hurley stated, is why Al McCabe, State insurance commissioner, should be interested in prospective resolutions.

Against McCabe's exhortations is the statement in an interview today of Dr. D. M. Gandier that in his opinion Fickert should be ousted from office.

WANTS ANOTHER OFFICIAL.

"I haven't given particular thought to the proposed investigation," said Gandier, "but there isn't any question that San Francisco would be better off with another district attorney in office."

Dr. Gandier is known to be in sympathy with the aims of the Law Enforcement League, which is also seeking an investigation of Fickert's office because of his alleged failure to enforce the redlight abatement act. There is close affiliation between the Law Enforcement League and the prohibition forces, which apparently are on the eve of victory on the ratification issue in the legislature.

Former Senator Edwin E. Grant, representing the league, has arrived in Sacramento to press the organization's demand for an investigation.

By introducing the resolution, Assemblyman Hurley created the opportunity for District Attorney Fickert to make public opinions of Hurley. In a statement made public today Fickert asserts that Hurley is an intimate friend of Mooney; that he was an expert witness for the defense in the trial of Mooney on a charge of transporting explosives, known as the Martinez case, and also in the trial of Mooney connected with the Preparedness Day explosion.

MEMBER OF UNION.

In a statement, accompanied by letters purposed to support his contention, Fickert says:

"It becomes a matter of considerable interest who Hurley is. He is popularly known as "Tex" Hurley and is an electrical lineman, now identified with the claims department of the Great Western Power Company. In 1913 he was a member of Local 283 of the Electrical Linemen's Union and was militantly identified with a radical group of that union called the Reed-Murphy faction, which was an outlaw faction, defiant of the parent organization, the American Federation of Labor.

"Hurley is an intimate friend of Thomas J. Mooney. We have a letter written by Mooney to Hurley May 21, 1916, which, in the light of these developments, is interesting."

Referring to the letter, Fickert quotes:

"I feel I need your advice and assistance. I did all in my power when your fight was raging. I hope you will give me a hand now."

Fickert's statement continues:

"You will note, in the last paragraph, Mooney called upon Hurley for his advice and assistance. This is just sixty days before the Preparedness Day bomb explosion. Mooney was most active in bringing about strikes, holding meetings, writing virulent matter in his newspaper, "The Blast," against the government, and against preparedness, and urging violence and force to prevent a state of preparedness for the war which was then seen to be approaching.

"Mooney, at the time he wrote this letter, was giving his entire time to this class of propaganda and work. It is a singular circumstance that he calls on Hurley at this time for his advice and assistance. In the last paragraph of the above letter is the reference by Mooney to his activity in Hurley's fight. This fight was a strike by the employees of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company against that company. It is already well known how active Mooney was in that strike, which resulted in the extensive use of dynamite in blowing up transmission towers and other property."

Baxters Settling Up Out of Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Partial settlement out of court of the troubles of Mrs. Rosanna Baxter and Walter Baxter, wealthy young Berkeley man, was indicated today when the Baxters failed to appear in Judge Mogan's court in connection with the annulment action of Mrs. Baxter. She had asked for $300 a month.

Mrs. Baxter's action for annulment of their marriage will be pressed, however, it was said. Mrs. Baxter charged that her husband was mentally incompetent. Recently he was placed in a sanitarium. He escaped and visited his wife's apartments. He was arrested and later released.

J. BARLEYCORN'S DEVOTEES FACE TASK TOO HUGE

Five Million Gallons of Red Coming Into State and Only One Million Can Be Drunk; Help! Rest Will Be Stored

Can the California pals of John Barleycorn drink five million gallons of whisky between now and July 1, when country-wide prohibition becomes effective?

The barkeeps and the wholesale purveyors of the "mingled souls of corn and wheat" view the situation pessimistically and say "No."

The cronies of Barleycorn admit they do not know whether or not they can pack the load, but with ready optimism say they are willing to try.

"It can't be done," gloomed a prominent wholesale liquor dealer; "for while the spirit is willing the flesh is weak.

"Millions of gallons of whisky will be stored for use in the long dry spell ahead," he continued. "I should say that about one million gallons between now and July 1 would represent the maximum drinking capacity of the state's thirsty, so you can count on about four million gallons as a reserve when the drought arrives.

MANY GALLONS STOWED.

"This reserve will be in addition to the many gallons which have already been stored in cellars by the 'wets' as a sort of anchor to the windward."

"All of which may be true," reply the thirsty, "but don't underestimate our storage capacity."

"California has 1,314,081 gallons of whisky and other spirits in bonded warehouses, the dealers have on hand about 650,000 gallons, and heavy shipments will come in by rail from now on," is the comeback of the wholesaler. The receipts before July 1 are expected to increase the present supply to at least 5,000,000 gallons.

"Leave it to us, sport," reply the friends of Barleycorn. "We have never failed you yet."

A HARD LIFE.

"Everybody is taking whisky out of bond as fast as it can be done owing to a higher tax on what is left," mourned the wholesaler.

"In warehouses where three gaugers were formerly sufficient there are now ten and twelve, and they are busy to the limit," said the wholesaler.

"Fine business, the more the merrier," gloat the Rouse Brothers.

FOR DEMON RUM.

"No more California champagne is on the market. It has been sold for delivery in the East," complained the wholesaler.

"Never mind, friend," comfort the opponents of the arid trail, "the demon rum is good enough company for us."

"Among the wine dealers," said the wholesaler, "a big demand has sprung up for bottled clarets and white wines, ready to lay down, and no one is paying any attention to either their labels or brands."

"That's the dope," shout the midnight roisterers, "'taint the label on a bottle that counts, 'tis what flows out of its neck."

LATE SATURDAY DECREE ATTACKED

Whether or not a court decree signed after noon on Saturday is valid, is the question Judge Dudley Kinsell is called upon to decide. The law says that such a decree is invalid, but Judge Kinsell today expressed a doubt of its invalidity. He said that if such is the case then the validity of every bit of court business transacted close to the noon hour on Saturday of every week by every department in the Superior Court in the State is liable to attack.

"The only thing necessary to do is for an attorney to come in and prove that the court's clock was slow," said Judge Kinsell. "If we are going to split hairs that way as to the time I am of the opinion that we are becoming too technical to be of service."

The question arose on the motion of the plaintiff in the case of C. B. Miller against Mrs. Gussie H. Moore to compel her to consummate an exchange of Telegraph avenue property for property in San Jose, and asking $2000 damages.

Judge J. J. Jerome gave judgment for the defendant, and signed the findings in the case at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, the last day of his term. The reason he signed it then was because there was a question as to whether his term ended Sunday night at midnight or Monday noon. It was claimed by attorneys for the defense that the time was waived when the decree was signed.

Now the plaintiff comes into court and asks that the decision be vacated because of the 2 o'clock signing. Judge Kinsell took the matter under advisement.

Pershing Praises War Work of K. of C.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—General Pershing has again expressed his appreciation for the Knights of Columbus service in behalf of American soldiers. The following message was given out at the New York headquarters today:

"With a deep feeling of gratitude for the enormous contribution which the Knights of Columbus have made to the moral and physical welfare of the expedition, all ranks join me in sending heartiest best wishes."

10,000 Casualties From Flu in Italy

ROME, Jan. 10.—There have been 10,000 casualties in the present influenza epidemic in Italy, according to Monsignor Montigue Arnieri, who today asked the government to do all possible to fight the disease.

Incessant rains have flooded the river Tiber until the surrounding country is inundated.

RUDLEDGE CASE HEARD BEFORE MULDOWNEY'S

The case of Charles Rudledge, manager of the St. Nicholas Hotel, Oakland, charged with running a disorderly house in violation of the Federal social evil proclamation, was taken under advisement by U. S. Commissioner Thomas E. Hayden following a hearing yesterday.

Arrested with Timothy Muldowney, proprietor of the Tavern cafe, the attorney for Rudledge, Charles H. Brennan, who also represents Muldowney, elected to have the hearing of Rudledge separate from that of the Tavern cafe owner.

At the hearing Policewoman Alma Mortimer and Officer F. F. Anderson, former member of the moral squad, testified that after they had arrested Tessie Hughes, a woman of the underworld, Rudledge had admitted to them that he reserved rooms in the St. Nicholas for the use of such women and the men they brought into the hotel. A decision is expected Monday with the resumption of the Muldowney hearing, at which time the defense will be heard.

Muldowney's defense, it was learned today, will be, it is said, the testimony of police officers that he (Muldowney) had used every endeavor to keep the Tavern free from disorderly women and that he would be able to show that he had no knowledge that solicitation of men was a common occurrence in his place.

63 U. S. Flyers Aces; Rickenbacher Is Best

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Captain Edward V. Rickenbacher, of Columbus, O., famous as an automobile driver, was the premier "ace" of the American air forces in France, having 26 enemy planes to his credit. An official report received today at the War Department showed that there were 63 "aces"—men downing five or more enemy machines—in the American army when the war ended.

First Lieutenant Frank Luke Jr of Phoenix, Ariz., who was killed in action, was second on the list of "aces," with 18 victories to his credit, and Major Victor Raoul Lufbery of Wallingford, Conn., who was also killed in action, was third with 17 victories. Before joining the American army Major Lufbery was a member of the Lafayette Escadrille.

Hospital Steward Smallpox Sufferer

Harold Richards, assistant steward of the Oakland General Emergency hospital, is the victim of what is considered by physicians to be the first genuine case of smallpox discovered in Alameda county for several weeks. He is confined at the isolation hospital near the county infirmary, where his condition is pronounced satisfactory.

Mae Marsh, in Romantic Drama of Old Kentucky, the Feature of Double Bill at the American, Sunday

MAE MARSH

Mae Marsh in "The Racing Strain," a fascinating romance of the race track, and Madaline Traverse in "The Danger Zone," an intensely dramatic story of theatrical and high society life, are the feature photoplays which will be presented at the American Theater for three days, commencing with the matinee Sunday.

"The Racing Strain" is a brilliant visualization of a racing story, the scenes of which are laid in old Kentucky and at the famous Saratoga races track, and depicts the romance and adventures of a plucky Southern girl who did not hesitate to stake love and fortune on the fleetness of a horse.

"The Danger Zone" is a powerful story of the struggle of a brave woman to rise above all obstacles to regain the heights of social prominence from which she had been dragged by a rejected suitor, and her heroic efforts to guard the secrets of her past.

A Pathe News Weekly will be an interesting additional feature to the bill.

At every evening performance Leon Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra will play interpretative musical scores for the pictures and render, as a special concert number, a grand selection from "Carmen," by Bizet.—Advertisement.

PUNIC WAR PRECEDENT FOR TEUTONS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Bishop of Durham has found an historical precedent for the surrender of the German fleet in the pages of Livy. That ancient chronicler tells how, as an article of the peace agreement which ended the second Punic war, Carthage had to surrender to Rome the whole of her battle fleet.

Rome, the article points out, was the great military power and Carthage was the great naval power of antiquity, just as Germany and England in modern times. Rome beat Carthage—the soldier beat the sailor. In the conflict Rome revealed an extraordinary adaptability for naval warfare, and Carthage grave internal weakness.

"The German writers," the Manchester Guardian comments, "anticipated a similar course for a war between Germany and England. They were confident that the German military mind applied to naval warfare would prove its superiority to the English and that England, put to the test, would be proved rotten—a great illusion."

Explaining why the parallel of antiquity was deceptive, the Guardian proceeds:

"It should not too hastily be assumed that the British navy displayed an intellectual superiority derived from long tradition which no young navy could hope to overcome. We are on safe ground if we say that the German navy, unlike the navy of ancient Rome, showed itself singularly wooden and unadaptable. Sir David Beatty has pronounced its strategy and its tactics contemptible.

"If the comparison of Germany with Rome was false, still falser was the comparison of England with Carthage. Carthage was a narrow oligarchy resting upon a peculiarly harsh slave system, and defended by a mercenary army recruited from all the Mediterranean peoples. Carthage's lack of freedom was her weakness, and England's freedom was her strength. But gentlemen of the school of Treitschke could not be expected to see that, for they despised political freedom."

MARRIED LIFE

New York Gets 75 Per Cent Milk Supply

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. — New York City today received 75 per cent of its normal supply of milk. This was said to be the largest amount since the dairymen's league declared a "strike" against New York distributors in an effort to obtain a rate of $4.01 per hundred pounds. About 65 per cent of the shipment, it was said, came from new sources.

GIVEN RIGHT TO SELL HIS PLANT

Judge Dudley Kinsell today dissolved by stipulation the temporary restraining order granted last week by Judge James quinn restraining Max Koenig from selling or otherwise disposing of the Owl Auto Machine Works on Broadway pending the decision of the suit instituted by Gabriel Demery for recovery of the property.

Demery alleges in his suit that Koenig and one Julius Diusebolr caused him to sign a conveyance of the property without consideration on the false representation that he would be arrested by the federal government for having a number of barrels of whisky stored in the shop.

Koenig supported his motion for a dissolution of the restraining order by an affidavit in which he avers that the plaintiff owes him $7000 and that the sale complained of was made to secure this money.

APE 'GHOSTS' ARE IN COURT

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Detective Sergeant Lawrence McDonough diverted Judge Frank H. Graham's courtroom this morning by tucking under his chin the ghostly vestments of "little Georgie" and "darling mother," the spirit visitors to the "Rev." Mabel Jackman's attic temple and draped his head with the long crape silk veil which the "departed" were found to wear over their faces. Emory Smith, attorney for Mrs. Jackman, then moved the detective's testimony be stricken out on the ground he had admitted on cross-examination that the money was given to Mrs. Jackman by voluntary subscription. In the technical phrasecology of the charge, he contended that this cleared the defendant of "extracting money" from her followers.

In the courtroom were many of the faithful, devoutly partisan. With her usual priestly dignity Mrs. Jackman, in sealskin coat and oliskin tam o'shanter, held a short meeting with a few of her congregation in the hall. Among them were some of her witnesses. She listened in a detached way to the testimony of the witnesses for the state, writing from time to time on a small pad which she held. A rude reporter, looking over her shoulder, beheld this unfinished beatitude: "The heights to which the soul doth soar—" As the cast progressed, however, she brought her thoughts back to the realm of the spiritual long enough to make suggestions to her attorney.

Study Cryptogram to Explain Murder

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Detectives, attempting to unravel the mystery of the murder of Reuben Fogel, Santa Monica broker, today traced an alleged cryptogram which has come into possession of the district attorney's office.

The alleged cryptogram read:

"The time is coming. The time is near. The time is ripe. Brotherhood. Sisterhood. From Principatibus. 72. P. Moses. B. 7. Be thou ready. The master mind."

Detectives are working on the theory that the note was an order for Fogel's murder. It is claimed it was circulated among certain clairvoyants a week previous to Fogel's death.

SPANISH INFLUENZA --- A NEW NAME FOR AN OLD FAMILIAR DISEASE

Simply the Same Old Grip That Has Swept Over the World Time and Again. The Last Epidemic in the United States was in 1889-90.

ORIGIN OF THE DISEASE.

Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C., which is regarded by many to have been Influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grip, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passage—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, oftentimes a sore throat or tonsilitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Nature herself is the only "cure" for influenza and will throw off the attack if only you conserve your strength. A little Quinine, Asperin or Dover's Powder may be given by the physician's direction to allay the aching. Always call a doctor, since the chief danger of grip is in its weakening effect on the system, which allows complications to develop. These are chiefly pneumonia and bronchitis, sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leaves the clothing loose around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC.

There is no occasion for panic—Influenza or grip has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a rundown condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE.

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS.

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary teakettle. Fill half-full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

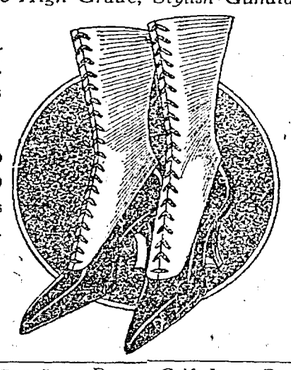

NOTE—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubebs, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all druggists. While comparatively new in certain parts of the North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and West for all forms of cold troubles—over six million jars were sold last year. VapoRub is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.—Advertisement.

ANOTHER CINDERELLA.

MILFORD, Mass., Jan. 10.—Miss Marion Albee, 22 years old, claims to be the "Cinderella of Massachusetts." She wears a 12½ shoe. She doesn't like it a bit, as her shoes cost her double that of the average woman. The last pair cost her $12 and were made to order. For a pair of lasts for her special shoes she had to pay $10.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Drake Said "It's Useless to Deny It."

I was glad to be seated when Mr. Drake, the stranger whom Dicky had brought home to dinner, leaned forward in his chair and asked me if I knew why my father had changed his name, I know if I had been standing that my knees could never have supported me, so terrified was I at the knowledge of my father's secret which this stranger evidently had, and meant me to know he possessed.

True, he had not said in so many words that he knew that Robert Gordon was my father, but his whole manner, his deliberation when he uttered the words: "Charles Robert Gordon Spencer! Can you throw any light upon the gentleman's reason for changing his name—Mrs. Margaret Spencer Graham?"—told me that he was in possession of my father's secret.

But I was resolved to yield no hint of my own knowledge unless I was forced to do so. I waited until my voice was steady, and then said, coldly:

"You are talking very strangely, Mr. Drake. I do not understand you, nor can I imagine any reason why you should adopt so melodramatic a manner of addressing me."

Into Mr. Drake's eyes there flashed the same look of sympathetic admiration I had caught before. Then he clapped his hands together softly. I realized from the gesture and the words which followed that he had no intention of letting Dicky gain any hint of the subject we were discussing.

"I ADMIT NOTHING."

"Bravo! little lady!" he said, and his low tones did not disguise the genuine enthusiasm in his voice. "I like grit wherever I find it, and you surely have your share of gameness and resourcefulness. I'd like to have you working with me, instead of against me. But I'll have to tell you plainly that your wonderfully clever little air of misunderstanding my meaning won't do. I see I shall have to lay my cards on the table after all."

He paused a moment, and I realized in that moment of waiting how a charmed bird must feel waiting for the doom it cannot move a muscle to escape.

"You are the daughter of the man who calls himself Robert Gordon, Mrs. Graham," he said slowly at last. "It is useless for you to deny it. I have absolute proof of the truth of what I am saying. Whether or not you know why he changed his name, I do not know, nor do I care. The only thing which concerns me is the gentleman's present address and that is what I am sure you will give me."

The absolutely certainty of his tones maddened me. I sprang to my feet and faced him, quivering with anger.

"You are utterly mistaken," I said. "I admit nothing you have said, and under no circumstances should I give you Mr. Gordon's address even if I had it."

The sound of Dicky's footsteps descending the stairs came distinctly to both our ears. Mr. Drake altered his manner in a moment.

"We will discuss this again before I leave," he said quietly. "May I point out to you that it would be very unwise for you to involve your husband in this matter? If I guess correctly, and I think I do, he does not know as much about your father as you do, and the knowledge I do not imagine would add much to his general peace of mind."

A HIDDEN MENACE?

The next moment he had turned to the door and greeted Dicky with a merry quip as far removed as possible from the half-veiled sinister threat he had given me. And not once during the remainder of the evening did he refer in any manner to Robert Gordon.

But I—I lay awake almost all of the night by Dicky's side trying hard to keep from waking him by my restlessness. For a deadly fear was upon me, not so much the fear for my father's safety, as a dread that behind the mystery of his long absences in South America lay something sinister, criminal.

Should I tell Dicky my fears? This was the question which I thrashed out at length during the long, wakeful hours. Of course Dicky knew that my father's name was not Robert Gordon, but in telling him I had minimized the earnestness with which my father had urged me to tell no one but Dicky and Lillian of his identity as Charles Spencer. I knew from his manner when Mr. Drake spoke of Robert Gordon that he had no thought of anything but idle curiosity behind the questions.

I did not like to share even the semblance of a secret with this stranger, but there was a menace in his talk of my father that I could not understand, and which I finally made up my mind to heed. I resolved to keep my own counsel, even from my husband, until I was certain just what danger to my father lay behind the stranger's words.

Uncle Wiggily Shot, But Still Lives

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Well, I certainly wish I knew what it was," said Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, as one morning he looked over the paper in his hollow stump bungalow. I don't mean the wall paper; I mean The Woodland News, which all animal folk read.

"What is it you wish you knew what was?" asked Nurse Jane.

"What happened to Jollie Longtail, the mouse boy, and to me last night when I went for the cheese," replied Mr. Longears. "There was a flash of fire and a boom, but it wasn't thunder or lightning. And I don't see anything in the paper about an earthquake or a volcano. It is very queer. Guess I'll take a walk and see if any of my friends heard anything."

"Better be careful," said Nurse Jane. "This is the hunting season, you know, and you might get shot."

"Oh, I guess not," spoke the bunny rabbit, casual like and confident. "I'm a pretty good runner, and I would like to know what it was scared Jollie and me."

So off he started over the fields and through the woods, asking all the friends he met if they had heard of the big, glaring light and the puff-bang sound which had happened to him and the mouse boy the evening before.

"I didn't," said Dr. Possum. "I'm too busy tending sick animals, that have the epizootic to listen for things like that. You're not sick, are you, Uncle Wiggily?"

"No, I'm glad to say I'm not," spoke the bunny.

"Then I'll hurry along to some one who is," said Dr. Possum, and, curling his tail tighter around his medicine bag, away he hurried.

Mr. Whitewash, the Polar bear who was happy now because it was cold, winter weather, had heard nothing of the puff and light that scared Uncle Wiggily.

And so, Mr. Longears went on and on over the fields and through the woods asking all the friends he met if they had heard or seen anything strange the night before. None had, and Uncle Wiggily was beginning to think perhaps he and Jollie dreamed it.

"If it was after I'd eaten the cheese I would feel pretty sure it was a nightmare," said the bunny. "But it was before, so it couldn't be. I wonder what it was?"

Then, all of a sudden, it began to snow, and it snowed so hard that soon the ground was covered, and Uncle Wiggily's paws made funny little marks in the white covering.

Then, pretty soon, Uncle Wiggily sniffed and snuffed and he smelled something very good and sweet. At first he thought it might be a crumb or two of cheese that he and Jollie had dropped the night before, but when he sniffed again he knew it wasn't that.

"It's a carrot, that's what it is," said Uncle Wiggily. "It's a nice, red, juicy carrot, and it must be hidden down somewhere under the snow."

Then he began to sniff and snuff around, and, having a very good plan, twinkling nose for such work, he soon smelled his way to where the carrot was. It was covered up with snow, but that didn't matter to Uncle Wiggily.

He scraped the white flakes to one side, and there, as nicely as if it was sleeping in a bed with a downy, white quilt, was a carrot.

"Oh, joy," cried Uncle Wiggily.

He reached down and began to nibble. At first, he was a bit timid, thinking perhaps the carrot might belong to some one else, but when he looked all around and saw no one Mr. Longears became very brave and bold, and bit harder into the nice vegetable.

When he had eaten one side, he sort of took hold of it in his paw, to raise it up and pull it toward him in order that he might take better bites.

And then all of a sudden, there was a blinding flash of light, just like that he and Jollie Longtail had seen and there was a big boom—puff, and Uncle Wiggily, after holding himself still for a second, suddenly tumbled backward over in the snow.

"Oh, I'm shot! I'm shot!" he cried. "Nurse Jane was right! The hunters are out getting their Christmas dinner, and I'm shot!"

But, for all that, Uncle Wiggily didn't feel any pain, and pretty soon he stopped rolling over in the snow and sat up. He didn't seem to be hurt at all and he wasn't really shot, of course, or I couldn't write any more stories about him, which might be too bad. So the bunny uncle looked around, and he didn't see any hunter, but there was something black on the snow near the carrot and what it was I'll tell you in the next story, when, in case the baking powder doesn't shoot the soda cracker and make it get dust on the nutmeg grater, you shall hear what Uncle Wiggily found out.

ENVOY REACHES ISLANDS.

HONOLULU, H. T., Jan. 10.—Dr. S. Tachi, professor in the Imperial University of Japan and an authority on international law, who is on his way to the Paris peace conference, arrived here today.

Mothers' Real Welcome Awaits "Grizzlies"

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

Next Wednesday is to be Mother's Day in California—a real Mother's Day with the white carnation for the badge and the mother taking things into their own hands, not waiting for any official proclamation, but just themselves welcoming with open arms their boys, "The Grizzlies," who are coming home that day.

Two Grizzlies will arrive in San Francisco on Wednesday. The San Francisco office of the War Camp Community Service has asked the mothers of San Francisco to co-operate in welcoming the boys, and as the War Camp Community Service itself is made up of mothers—there are a few, of course, who haven't real sons of their own coming home, but they have played at mothering the boys during the war and have shown that they have mother hearts—it is easy to see that it is going to be a real Mother's Day.

ALL ARE INVITED TO WELCOME BOYS.

Mrs. S. I. Simmons, president of the San Francisco Federation of Mothers' Clubs, who has been appointed by the War Camp Community Service as chairman of the mothers' committee, came to Oakland yesterday to attend the monthly meeting of the Second District, California Federation of Mothers' Clubs, and at that time extended an invitation to the Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley Federations and to all mothers, whether members of any of these organizations, to join with San Francisco in welcoming the boys in khaki on Wednesday.

A floral arch will be erected over Market street, in front of the Flood Building, and Oakland, through her merchants' association and through her mothers' clubs, has been asked to contribute all the blossoms that she can, for not only will the mothers erect the arch, but they will bombard the returning soldiers with schrapnel of flowers, and the Grizzlies will for a moment think that they are not being welcomed home, but that the fighting has begun.

Mrs. Simmons called a meeting today of committee at headquarters, 468 Flood Building, to consider further plans. All donations of flowers should be sent to the Flood Building, the mothers are arranging to have trucks meet the ferry boats that Oakland gifts may be transported quickly and with safety to headquarters. Save your spring flowers, Oakland. Let the Sunday dinner table go undecorated; send them all to the mothers' committee, so the Grizzlies may know that California is happy to have them all back, and have them back safe and sound.

WOMEN'S CLUBS CALL OFF PROGRAMS.

It really is discouraging for a club to arrange a program, involving a lot of work on the part of some one, and then at the last minute to find out that the star performer has cold and intends to spend the rest of the week with the thermometer and the castor oil, and that the program has all gone to the bad; and it is discouraging to have the program and find that a mere handful of fearless ones have come out to listen to it, the rest of the members doing as the star mentioned above, or sitting tight at home avoiding public meetings, and for this reason, not because of any request on the part of the health authorities, but of their own volition several prominent clubs which had arranged gatherings for next week have decided to call them all off.

Miss Theresa Russau, president of the Oakland Club, has postponed everything indefinitely; there is a noticeable lack of interest in club affairs at this time; the women seem to have their minds on something else, and at Wednesday's meeting of the Oakland Club the consensus of opinion was that the club had better forego public meetings until the influenza situation had cleared up.

Mrs. William Ferguson, president of the Ebell Club, not able to secure a quorum of the executive board on account of illness in the various homes, took the reins of government into her own hands and called off the luncheon which was scheduled for next Tuesday.

The Home Club was so involved in arrangements for the evening meeting last night that it was held according to program, but Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, president, considers it inadvisable to hold the luncheon next Thursday and that, too, disappears from the horizon.

The Civic Center, whose first meeting for 1919 was held today, will in all probability do as the other organizations have done and abandon all meetings until people's minds are more at rest.

SAFE AND SANE NEW YEAR'S.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—The Athenaeum Club, of this city, would have a "safe and sane" New Year's, according to a resolution passed by the club. Copies were forwarded to the Ministerial Alliance, Hotel Men's Association and other civic organizations.

AN OLD IDEA EXPLODED

CHERRY CHAT.

That old notion that fashionable girls and women are frivolous has been exploded.

Today the sensible man seeks for the ideal wife the girl who dresses fashionably. He knows that the good qualities of natural neatness and pride in appearance which characterize the stylish girl are the qualities to be sought.

Cherry's convenient credit plan leaves no girl an excuse for not dressing in the best of style. A few dollars down and a few dollars monthly will secure everything you need in clothes, coats, suits, and furs —at Cherry's—515 13th St. Cherry's Men's store is at 523 13th St.

Prizes Galore in Tribune Tournament

Diamond Medal Now Being Made

The TRIBUNE diamond medal which will be awarded the winner of the annual bowling tournament held under the auspices of this newspaper has been ordered and it is a jimdandy. It is the most valuable medal ever offered in a ten-pin competition on this side of the bay, and once the bowlers get a "slant" at it, Secretary Parker is going to have a hard time keeping track of the entries.

The medal is of gold and a wonderful specimen of the goldsmith's art. A magnificent diamond has been ordered placed in the center and there is plenty of room for the engraving of the winner's name. The goldsmiths have promised to have the trophy ready for exhibition in ten days but in the meantime the boys can rest assured that they are going to shoot for the prettiest and most expensive medal in the history of the alley game in Alameda county.

Entries are pouring in on Secretary L. G. Parker and practically every bowler of prominence on this side of the bay will toe the mark. The boys are practicing hard on every alley in town and the main topic of conversation in the places where the bowlers congregate is the annual TRIBUNE derby.

George Pudey, manager of the Maryland alleys where the games will be rolled has arranged for a dozen extra prizes in addition to the ten draw trophies. A stub is attached to each entry card giving the holder a chance at one of the gate prizes irrespective of his score in the tournament. This will give the class B and C lads some encouragement as they can win a prize without having to defeat the men of higher classification.

Entries close with L. G. Parker, care of The TRIBUNE sporting department, January 20. The drawing will be held the following evening and the first set of games rolled Monday night, January 27.

With J. Burman rolling up a total of 422 in a game of ten-pins, at the Auditorium bowling alleys, and his team-mates, Ed. Chippel and Archie Nell, building up good scores behind him, the Rivet Counters of the Moore shipyard defeated the Caulker Counters, and the Riveters will enjoy a dinner at the expense of the Caulkers. The Caulkers are new hands at the ten-pin game, but showed that they are good material and will do well playing among the class "C" or "D" boys for awhile. A return game will be played on a later date. The teams and scores follow:

CAULKER COUNTERS.

R. Swartz	152	116	150—378
W. LaBelle	133	169	149—251
C. Waite	178	172	150—400

RIVET COUNTERS.

J. Burman	156	158	128—422

A. Nell	106	155	128—389
Team total			1225

FARMER DEFEATS K. O. KRUVOSKY IN NORTH

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 10.—Frank Farmer, of Tacoma, last night defeated "Kayo" Kruvosky of San Francisco, light-heavyweight champion of the Pacific Coast, in a six-round decision bout for the title. It was a comeback for Farmer, Kruvosky having taken the crown from him in Seattle three months ago. The local boxer was in better shape than the southerner and piled up a substantial lead on points. Farmer led in the first, second, third and sixth rounds.

BILLINGS MAY QUIT.

CLEVELAND. — John (Josh) Billings, catcher for the Cleveland American league team, has been mustered out of the navy and returned to his home in Kansas where he intends to re-engage in the cattle business. Billings intimated that unless he is allowed to do more catching he may quit the game.

RINGSIDE SIDELIGHTS

Dave Symon, pinch-hitting for Tommy Simpson, does not expect to stage a boxing entertainment at the auditorium next Wednesday night. Dave is acting very mysteriously and the old boy surely has something up his sleeve in addition to an arm. Occasionally he chirps something about not wanting to mingle with the "small fry," which leads to the belief that David has a pair of top-notchers in view for a week from Wednesday.

George Shade is willing to give away some weight and box Frank Barrieau, according to Harold Algernon Broom but Dave wants the right kind of a medal. From what we hear the trophy offered was not commensurate with his ability and popularity which caused his refusal of the Barrieau bout last week. Broom says that if the promoters will add a little lustre to the trophy offered he has been assured by Shade himself that he will tackle the Canadian.

Battling Ortega and Tommy Simpson made their get-away yesterday and the pair will probably be gone for three months. Simpson set the time as between two and four months, according to the success the battler meets with and the number of matches offered him. Ortega can fight twice a week in the east and he is a cinch to make good.

An El Paso promoter wired Simpson's ace last night asking for Battling Ortega's services. There is some guy down south who has become the town idol and they want him beaten. Just as soon as a boxer gets to be the town idol of any man's town some birds get "on" him and try to have him whipped. There is no chance of Ortega going to El Paso, but Harold Algernon Broom lost no time in replying to the wire "Ortega going east, but me and Barrieau will come down and mix any guy you name. Wire best terms and don't be stingy, for we're high-class guys," was the substance of the message sent by Mr. Broom.

Jimmy Dundee and Johnny Conde returned from Boyes Springs this morning. The pair have been at the resort for the past ten days getting into shape for their contests tonight. Dundee meets Georgie Adams and Conde has a date with Claire Bromeo. The Dundee-Adams bout will be the main event of the weekly show at Dreamland Rink.

Battling Savage and Soldier Marples are assimilating the punishment Willie Meehan is dealing out to his sparring mates at San Rafael. Willie is training as he never trained before and he promises to give Fred Fulton a good time when the pair tangle across the bay January 24.

Eddie Denny, local featherweight, boxed a draw with Jack Hartford in a preliminary to the Farmer-Kruvosky fight at Tacoma last night. At the same show Mike Pete, the tough welter, looked like a beaten boxer in the second when he uncorked a right swing that laid Harry Schuster low. Harry Gillum defeated Marty Foley.

The following week the Class A golfers will go over the Claremont links and the Class B players will appear at the Presidio. The drawings for tomorrow follow:

HERE IS ONE THING THAT IS ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE

Rheumatism Has Never Been Cured by Liniments or Lotions, and Never Will Be.

You never knew of Rheumatism—that most painful source of suffering—being cured by liniments, lotions or other external applications. And you will never see anything but temporary relief afforded by such makeshifts.

But why be satisfied with temporary relief from the pangs of pain which are sure to return with increased severity, when there is permanent relief within your reach? Science has proven that Rheumatism is a disordered condition of the blood. How then, can satisfactory results be expected from any treatment that does not reach the blood, the seat of the trouble, and rid the system of the cause of the disease? S. S. S. is one blood remedy that has for more than fifty years been giving relief in even the most aggravated and stubborn cases of Rheumatism. It cleanses and purifies the blood by routing out all traces of disease. The experience of others who have taken S. S. S. will convince you that it will promptly reach your case. You can obtain this valuable remedy at any drug store.

A valuable book on Rheumatism and its treatment, together with expert medical advice about your own individual case, will be sent absolutely free. Write today to Medical Department, Swift Specific Co., 431 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Weather Man May Break Up Bushers' Plans

Splendid Program of Amateur Games Sunday Depends Upon J. W. Rain.

Maybe the weather man will cheat the fans out of the best set of games next Sunday that the Eastbay fans have been offered by the Bay Counties Midwinter League, and maybe he will also cause the Pittsburg (Columbia Steel) and the Crockett state champions to postpone the second game of the series for a while. Everyone but the ball players seem to be rooting for the weather man to tilt his sprinkling can, and the vigent above showed this morning that he is doing his best to answer the plea of those who want rain.

He managed to tip the sprinkler a little this morning, but that is only a drop compared to what he is promising for the next couple of days. He says when he once gets the top of the can facing toward earth, he will hold it there and give the farmers and others all the rain they want. So it looks like a gloomy week-end for the ball players, but the boys should be satisfied, as John W. Rain has treated them more than fair enough this winter, although last winter he treated them better.

Next Sunday's baseball program will be as follows, providing that the sprinkler proves too heavy for the weather man to tip bottom up by that time:

Crystal Laundry vs. Oakland Commission Merchants, at Fruitvale Recreation Park.

Timekeepers vs. C. L. Best Tractors at San Leandro.

The above program of games will provide the fans with some lively battles, at Crockett will be fighting to even up the count on the series with the Steelboys, the Vitt Grays will have Fodder Dolan in the box, and Fodder and the rest of his teammates are prepared to play the best game against the Halton-Didiers, and the latter team is also "het up." The Timekeepers have been making trouble for all the top-notchers and they should worry the Tractors. There seems to be only one doubt about a close battle, and that is at Fruitvale Recreation Park, where the Oakland Commission Merchants will stack up against the Crystal Laundry nine, which is leading the race in the Bay Counties Midwinter League. The Commission Merchants have not been playing up to the form that was expected of them.

Deal For Martin Completed, Cubs Getting Local Pitcher; Oaks Receive Cash and Men

Cal Ewing Will Get Two Cubs Before Chicago Team Leaves California in Spring

By Eddie Murphy

J. Cal Ewing, boss of the Oakland club, has refused to stand in the way of a chance for Elwood "Speed" Martin to go up to the Chicago Cubs next season. From the headquarters of the Oaks today Cal made the announcement that he completed a deal with the Cub owners last night whereby Martin will go to Chicago next season, and Oakland will benefit financially and in players. The Cubs wanted Martin badly after the way he performed in the box for them in the six games that he pitched toward the close of the National League race, and Martin was anxious to go to the Cubs.

But before letting go of the local pitcher, and giving the Chicago club all claim to him, Ewing framed a deal whereby he will have a right to select a couple of overstock players from the Cubs' roster, before they return to the Windy City after their spring trip here. The selling of Martin leaves the Oaks in a bad way for pitchers, as only four remain on the reserve list and Clifton Prough, one of them, says that he has given up professional baseball for next season at least. So that means "Buz" Arlett, "Wox" Kremer and Harry Krause are the only pitchers that Ewing and Howard can depend upon to be at the training camp when the spring call is made. Local fans should not become discouraged at the thought of only three pitchers, as Ewing promises to give the town a real ball club, and he still has a couple of months in which to scout up more ball players, and by landing a couple of players from the Cubs he might be able to make trades with others that will bring him a couple of pitchers. There will be many a rainy day between now and the time the boys will be called to camp, so Cal Ewing and Del Howard will spend time in the little office at Park and San Pablo figuring a team for the coming season. They know the fans want a winner, and they will do their best to give it to them.

When the managers of the Bay Counties Midwinter league voted at the last meeting to close the players' list and prohibit further additions to the rosters, the league secretary and in his possession the names of the following players who are eligible to play with their respective clubs:

Vitt Grays — Estes, C. Bertolacci, B. Vellou, B. Spoonmore, E. Vitt, J. Price, M. Barsotti, J. Fischer, D. McCarthy, E. Campion, C. Dorman, F. Dolan, T. Beeson, A. Gadsden.

GAMES NEXT TUESDAY.
(Starting at 8 P. M.)
England vs. Canada.
France vs. Belgium.
Italy vs. America.

This week's games in the Allied Nations basketball league, played at the Oakland Y. M. C. A. court, resulted in victories for America, Belgium and England, with Percy Gilbert's Belgium "Babes" winning by the largest score, although in doing so they had to put up one of the best games of the season.

Belgium defeated Italy by a score of 21 to 15. The clever basket shooting of Monk Mallette and the fighting spirit shown by Captain Gilbert and Gooch helped the Babes win. Still, the losers have an alibi to offer, as their captain, Mike Hutchinson, was absent from the lineup and his services were sorely missed. Chantler and Rose starred for the losers.

With Forward Dudy Brobst shooting five baskets and scoring five fouls most of the credit for the victory which the Americans put over on the Canadians belongs to him. Brobst played a wonderful game, and his work over-shadowed the stellar game which Captain Breuer and Jack Spence put up for the winners. At half time the score was 15 to 9 in favor of the winners, but the Canadians put up a hard fight in the second half and the Americans were lucky to win 23 to 21.

In the best contested one of the season, England defeated France, 27 to 26. From the start until one minute before finishing time, the losers were in the lead, but the Englishmen came strong and put over the necessary points in that last minute. The teams were evenly matched and indications are that France will get things for the Belgium Babes when they meet next Tuesday. G. Lindeman registered seventeen of the points for the winners, while Reed at center for France starred by scoring sixteen points. George Sinclair did some good guard work for the losers. The lineups and scores follow:

N. Y. Athletic Club Ready for Big Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The New York Athletic Club will resume sports this year on a larger scale than ever before, according to an announcement today. All branches of athletics will be fostered by the "winged foot" and its members will be permitted to participate in championship competition once again.

WALTER SCHMIDT WAS BUSIEST CATCHER

Walter Schmidt, the catcher who went from the San Francisco Seals to the Pittsburg Pirates, holds the honor of catching more games than any other backstop in the National league last season. Schmidt caught 105 games, which was just one more than W. Killefer of the Chicago Cubs. Killefer handled the most putouts, but a lot of credit for that goes to the pitcher for striking out the batters. In the "assists" column, Schmidt is by far the best.

He winged the ball to the bags perfectly 153 times. His nearest rival was Gonzales of St. Louis, who had 123 assists. Schmidt's fielding record of .961 shows him to be fourth among the regular National leaguers, while Killefer leads him for third honors by one point. Burns of Philadelphia who caught in 68 games is first with .995, and Rariden of New York caught 63 games and has an average of .993.

Moores, Only Local Club in Football League, Is Leading Five San Francisco Teams

Leaders Will Play Olympic Club at Croll's Alameda Grounds Next Sunday

By Bob Shand

Oakland, with a lone representative in the California soccer league, is very likely to capture the pennant. The team that represents the Moore shipyard has more than fulfilled expectations by forging to the front with a two-point margin over their rivals from the Potrero and the fans are about ready to concede the Adeline shipbuilders the championship.

San Francisco has five teams in the league race and they have the added advantage of playing most of their games in their own back yard. The Moores are forced to play wherever there is a vacant field, but a little thing like this does not worry the soccerites of the shipyards and they are setting a fast pace for the others to follow.

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco, champions of the last two years, were looked upon as certain repeaters when the season opened, but they are second to the locals now. Both teams have the same number of points, but the Potrero boys have played one more game than the locals. The Olympic club is right up in the race being but a pair of points behind the leaders, but some fans believe that Pomeroy's lads have been playing over their heads.

Sunday will tell the tale. The Olympics and Moores meet on Johnny Croll's back yard in West Alameda and the team that wins will be looked upon as the one to beat for the bunting.

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco have fourteen points but they have played one more game than either the Moores or Olympics.

The league race is tightening up and promises to develop into a thriller with the Moores, Tanks and Olympic club finishing "under a blanket."

Ankersmit, the lad who scored four goals against the Union team last Sunday, is going to be closely watched by the Moore halfbacks Sunday. Manager Billy Sterling will order his center half to devote all his attention to the Ankersmit party and the other two halves will be requested to lend the center half a hand should the O. C. man get too gay.

While Ankersmit gets credit for scoring the four goals last week, the other forwards should not be forgotten. The quintet worked together beautifully and it was after some nice passing runs that Ankersmit was given the chances to score.

Edgar Pomeroy, soccer commissioner of the Olympic club, played many a hard game at Croll's fifteen years ago, when he was right half back on the British-American Rifles' team. Pomeroy's club won the championship that year.

The game between the Moores and Barbarians played at Eighth and Market streets, San Francisco, last week netted a nice gate. The cashier reported returns from the cash customers amounted to $145, which is the best "take" of the season for the Moores.

The local players assert there was no cause for the demonstration against Referee Trainer. The official was as neatly correct in his decisions as any referee could be say the Moores, and they accuse the Barbarian supporters of poor sportsmanship in threatening to mob the referee.

Interest of local fans will be centered in the appearance of the Alameda Beths in the cup ties next month. The Alameda boys were unceremoniously dropped from the California league but they are still eligible to participate in the cup competition. It will be interesting to see how they stack up with some of the teams that they were able to defeat before being ousted from the league.

Jack McKenzie, former treasurer of the football association and a prominent member of the old Rifles, Hornets, Barbarians and Olympics, is in France acting as a Y. M. C. A. physical director. Jack writes that he has met many old friends across the water. Bert Lowry, a former sporting writer of The TRIBUNE, went over with McKenzie.

The Moore team is the only unbeaten outfit in the league and the locals are only two points shy of a perfect record. Twice they were held even, therefore suffering the loss of a pair of points.

The Olympics also have a pair of drawn games and one defeat chalked up against them in the league series.

In the eight games in which they have taken part the Moores have scored eighteen goals against five obtained by their opponents which speaks volumes for the defense of the local shipbuilders.

The Burns-Rangers will tackle the Union Iron Works in the main event at Eighth and Market streets, San Francisco, Sunday afternoon. The Barbarians and Celtics will furnish a preliminary to the big battle.

Singer will be unable to keep goal for the Barbs against the Moores but Pomeroy says he has a good substitute who will keep the locals from getting the ball between the posts.

TENER HAS FAITH IN FUTURE OF BASEBALL

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—"I see no reason why baseball should not retain its place as the foremost national game," said John K. Tener, former president of the National League, today.

"I believe baseball will continue as in past years, before the outbreak of the war, when it enjoyed its greatest popularity and prosperity," he added.

"I, for one, am a lover of the game. I intend to follow it and enjoy it as a fan."

Asked for his opinion regarding the proposed change in the makeup of the national baseball commission, the former National League head reserved comment.

"I have no opinion to express along the lines of reconstructing the commission," he said, "but if organized baseball should decide in favor of a one-man commission I will say that I know of no one man better fitted for the position than John Heydler."

Mr. Tener added that there are, in his opinion, four or five with years of experience in baseball who would be able to fill the requirements of a one-man commission capably and without the slightest partiality.

In speaking of the relation of the war to players, Tener expressed praise for the players who went forward when the nation entered the conflict, and said that it was his belief that the players are as loyal as any body of men.

The significance of the date lies in the fact that the National League will be asked to consider a rule limiting training trips to 21 days before the season opens April 23. This would be April 2 and it is said the Cub management will oppose such a measure.

Specialties Make Some Advance
Standard Issues Are in Reaction

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Confusing price movements attended today's moderate dealings on the Stock Exchange, specialties scoring irregular advances, while standard issues reacted. Sales approached a half million shares.

Selling of active issues was resumed at the opening, with United States Steel the central figure on an offering of 4000 shares at a fractional recession. Rails, coppers and equipments were moderately lower.

Little opposition to the declining tendency was encountered during the morning, prominent stocks extending their early losses. Reactions were most severe in oils, steels, coppers and equipments, investment rails also yielding with food specialties. Foreign bonds, especially the French group, shaded fractionally. Tobaccos were stronger.

Steel rallied over a point after publication at noon of the December tonnage figures, although the decrease exceedd gnral stimats. Changes otherwise were nominal xcept among local tractions, which reacted moderately on refusal of the city authorities to grant higher fares. The closing was heavy.

Movement of prices at successive periods of today's trading on the Stock Exchange is analyzed in detail in the following:

OPENING—Some of the easily moved stocks made gains at the opening, but the tone was heavy from the start, and at the end of the first fifteen minutes the important issues showed substantial losses. United States Steel sold down ⅝ to 91½, a new low since last session. Mexican Petroleum advanced 1⅝ at the opening to 185⅝, and then had a sharp break to 181½. American Smelting was in supply, declining 1⅜ to 73⅝. Marine preferred down ⅜ at 107¼. Cuba Cane Sugar dropped 2⅛ to 28. Dealings in the rest of the list were small in volume, with fractional declines generally recorded in the early trading.

CLOSING—The market closed steady. Government bonds were unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular. Tobacco Products were finally 77⅜, United Cigar Stores 113⅜, Southern Pacific 100⅞, Studebaker 52½. There were some recessions, Mexican Petroleum dropping to 182 and Distillers to 54⅛. Sales, 451,200 shares; bonds, $7,950,000.

Closing prices of Liberty bonds: 3½s, 99.54; first convertible 4s, 93; second 4s, 92.78. First convertible 4¼s, 96.40; second convertible 4¼s, 95.20; third 4¼s, 96.20; fourth 4¼s, 95.60.

Money Market

Time loans, firm, unchanged. Call money weak; high 5, low 3¾, ruling rate 5, closing bid 3½, offered at 3¾, last loan 3¾.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Money unchanged.

Bank Clearings

An increase of $1,967,169.48 in the bank clearances of Oakland for the week ending January 9, 1919, over the corresponding week in 1918, is noted in the compilation of bank statistics by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. The record follows:

For the week ending January 9, 1919 ..... $8,221,185.01
For the corresponding week in 1918. ..... 6,254,015.53

Increase. $1,967,169.48
For the week ending January 2, 1919 ..... $7,321,340.28
For the corresponding week in 1918. ..... 4,330,407.62

Oakland's bank clearings for today are $1,155,567.07.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The bank clearings for today are $21,360,346.42.

Metal Exchange

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Metal, unchanged.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The cotton market at the opening made a poor response to Liverpool's advance this morning, due chiefly to southern and Liverpool selling with less active support from spot houses. First prices were twenty points higher to three points lower, January showing the greatest strength, partly through the absence of notices. Later the market steadied.

The final tone was easy at a net decline of 90 to 120 points.

Says Judge Morrow Is Not to Retire

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The recently published story that Circuit Judge W. W. Morrow will retire from the bench is denied in Federal judicial circles here today, one member of the federal brigade, a close personal friend of Judge Morrow, saying: "Every time Judge Morrow leaves town for an extended stay to attend Carnegie Institute or Red Cross work in the East the story of his retirement is resurrected. Judge Morrow will soon be back in harness and any story of his retirement is absurd."

There is considerable speculation in the breasts of aspirants to the new federal district judgship which has been created here following the passing of Senator Phelan's bill for a new judge in the Senate. This bill is now in the hands of the judiciary committee of the House.

SAYS SCHOOL TRAINS YOUNG FOR CRIME

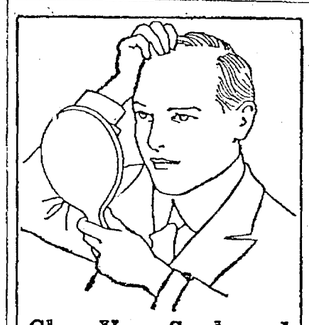

Do the schools of today train for crime?

Unwittingly and unknowingly they do is the answer of Virgil E. Dickson, psychologist of the Oakland school department, as made to a large gathering of members of the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in Unity Hall, in that city.

"Our schools of today unwittingly train many children in the habits of criminology," Dickson told the members of the league. "It is not the fault of the schools or of the teachers, but it constitutes a problem for all to attack."

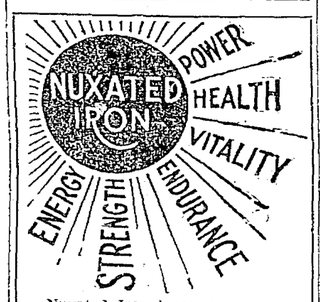

MANY MENTAL DEFECTIVES.

Of more than 40 per cent of the children who failed in their studies last year out of 25,000 pupils in Oakland, Dickson declared from eight to ten per cent were mental defectives.

What is doing TO-MORROW.

Kebekah Lodge, No. 16, installs, eve.

For from two to four per cent of that number he said instruction in regular classes was not only impossible but invaluable.

"The law forces these children to go to school; the teachers are helpless," he said. "While the mentally feeble are not criminals, criminal instinct is easily developed in the treatment accorded. Because they are unable with their inferior mental facilities to keep up with normal children, the defectives resort to lying, cheating and other methods to win their point if possible. They grow to hate their environment, their school, their teachers, their associates and everything connected with their abnormal life. They have little will power to resist criminal tendencies. They are largely creatures of suggestibility. It is impossible for them with their feeble intellects to face the complex problems of the social life in which they live."

FAVORS CORRECTION.

Every dollar spent in the schools to correct defective childhood is thousands of dollars saved later on, Dickson declared. "The reform school, the penitentiary is not the place to deal with such cases when they have grown to mature life," Dickson said. "How can you reform something which has never been formed? How can you treat with boys of 16 and 17 who have a mentality of 8 and 9 years?"

"This is a question of knowing the facts first and then doing something with them," he told the league. "Here in Oakland we can put our fingers on the very children whom we know are susceptible to crime and who are easily led. Can't we do something to meet this big need when all that is necessary is a few dollars? One dollar spent in the schools in prevention will save many dollars for correction in after life."

Mrs. L. E. Blochman, acting president of the Berkeley center, presided at yesterday's meeting, introducing the speaker to an audience which filled the hall.

CHARGES ENGLAND WITH PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — Charges that England is attempting through propaganda to defeat President Wilson's fourteen peace principles and his determination to prevent future wars through a league of nations, were made by Dr. Edmund von Mach, formerly of Harvard university, before the Senate propaganda probing committee today. Von Mach, now a Maine farmer, appeared, he said, to defend himself from charges of disloyalty. He is a naturalized citizen of the United States.

"Do you think there is a propaganda against the league of nations?" Senator Overman asked.

"I believe so," Von Mach replied.

"A propaganda by the English people?"

"Not by the English people—by the English government and the British secret service."

"Great Britain is attempting to 'balk' President Wilson's keeping his word that wars in the future shall be impossible," Von Mach went on. But he did not give his idea of the purpose of such a propaganda.

Accuses Policeman of Abusive Talk

Joseph C. Diaz, barber, 1786 Sixteenth street, today filed written charges against Officer Barney Curren, in which he alleges that Curran went into his place of business and used abusive language and forced him to suspend operations in the building of a partition because he had no building permit for the work.

Diaz claims that because the partition cost but $15.65 and the work was being done gratis by some friends that no permit was necessary. The officer, however, according to Commissioner Morse, was well within his rights in stopping the work, as his duties are to see that all ordinances are enforced.

The hearing, which will hinge on whether the officer used abusive language, will be held next Tuesday in the office of the Commissioner in the City Hall.

The boys had just visited a moving picture show at which the stealing of an automobile was a feature, and upon spying Gallagher's machine they thought they would try their hands at the game. Both boys gave their ages at 15 years.

GIVE UP HOPE OF FINDING LOST TANKER

Any hope that the Standard Oil tanker George W. Loomis is afloat has been dispelled by the report received today from Captain Hall of the Pacific Steamship Company's City of Topeka that he passed through a large expanse of oil in the vicinity of Coos Bay.

Two of the officers of the Loomis, Captain E. E. Lapchis and Chief Engineer Frederick Peterson, are Oakland men and leave families. Even after the Loomis had been unspoken for two weeks the wives of the officers maintained confidence that the vessel would make some port. The Lapchis residence is at 3720 Telegraph avenue, and that of the Peterson family is at 6330 Colby street. Both wives, however, have become convinced that the vessel and all those on board went to the bottom.

BUCKED HEAVY STORM.

The Loomis sailed from Richmond December 19, laden with oil and gasoline for Marshfield, Oregon. The last seen of her was a few days after her departure, when the steamer Washtenaw reported the Loomis bucking a heavy storm off the Oregon coast. At that time she appeared in no difficulty other than the ordinary trouble of vessels in heavy going.

For a considerable time after the Loomis had failed to reach her destination in any reasonable time the owners held to the hope that she had met with some accident to her machinery and had drifted out of the track of coastwise vessels. Wireless failed to reach her, and with the assistance of revenue cutters and other commercial vessels the entire ocean for a distance of forty miles from the coast of San Diego to Vancouver was "zoned."

The United States Shipping Board training vessel Iris also has been ordered to make search for the Loomis.

NOW BELIEVED LOST.

Failure of any vessel to encounter an oil spread has been one of the reasons for holding to the belief that the Loomis might be afloat, but it is believed now that she was sunk without going ashore and that the contents of the cargo receptacles has just escaped.

Of the nineteen officers and men aboard the Loomis the Standard Oil Company has furnished the following partial crew manifest:

Captain E. E. Lapchis.
George Jensen, first mate.
Ernest Lorensen, second mate.
K. Peterson, pumpman.
Harry Johansen, seaman.
Three other seamen, names not known.
F. Peterson, chief engineer.
L. N. Lackenour, first assistant engineer.
Clifford Bradley, second assistant engineer.
Three firemen, names not known.
William Letts, cook.
Eugene C. Marron, messman, Shipping Board apprentice.
Harry Turner, messboy, Shipping Board apprentice.
One wiper, name not known.
